Levy Is Up 13 Percent

The Antioch Community High School Board approved the annual levy in the total amount of $3,740,000 at its last regular meeting.

This represents an increase of $860,00 over last year. The '85 budget was $2,880,000 with $1.43 per $100 of assessed valuation. ACHS business manager Ken Wershem projects the '86 levy at approximately $1.60.

Supt. Gary Allen informed the board of additional requirements regarding Senate Bill 730. This included information on school district employee background investigations, staff development plans, administrators academy training, physical education exemption policy, student learner objectives, testing and assessment systems.

Additionally, there are other components of Senate Bill 730, "The Educational Reform Act" which must be considered in the near future.

Board member Glen Moore reported on the recent Illinois Assn. of School Boards' convention held in Chicago. Moore attended the meeting and represented the Antioch Community High School Board as a delegate to the representative assembly. Board members Tom Fisher and Frank Walsh, Jr., also attended the convention which was held the weekend of Nov. 23 and 24.

Fisher, chairman of the board curriculum committee, reported to the board on proposed curriculum changes for 1986-87 school year. The proposals were from the curriculum areas of physical education, math, business education, social studies and industrial education.

This information was presented to the board for further consideration, no action was taken on Fischer's report.

Police Search For Suspect In Bank Scam

by KAREN WILTBERGER

An attempt to swindle money from a recently widowed Antioch woman ended in a no-show from a man who police suspect is involved in a string of area bank scams.

The woman, who has been widowed for five weeks, went to an Antioch bank to meet with a man who called her at 12:30 p.m. on Dec. 17 and told her something was wrong with the signatures on her bank account.

He identified himself as Mr. Donovan, an auditor from her bank. During the course of their conversation, the woman disclosed the name of her bank and her bank account number.

Antioch Lt. Thomas Fisher said the widow contacted the police shortly after the man did not show up.

"He must have smelled a rat or something," said Fisher. She went to the bank and he never showed, he said.

Antioch police have a warrant out for the arrest of a man who was identified in a similar incident in Antioch in March. Fisher said the same man is suspected in this incident as well as an Arlington Heights incident which happened Dec. 18.

In March the suspect, who police describe as "very slick," swindled $2,800 from a recently widowed Antioch woman through the same process.

"It's happening all over the area," Fisher said. "We believe it's the same guy."

Fisher said the swindler targets women and men who are recently widowed, particularly the elderly. He discovers they are widowed through the local newspapers.

He will call his victims on the telephone and tell them something is wrong with their accounts and during the conversations he will find out the victims' account number and name of bank, Fisher said.

After the man has the necessary information, he will say he is an employee of the bank and set up a meeting to straighten out the problem, Fisher said.

At the meeting, the man will tell his victim to withdraw the account money from a certain teller. He says the money will be marked. He tells the victims to give him the money and he will be able to determine which bank employee is messing up the account, Fisher said.

While the victims wait in the lobby, the so-called bank employee disappears with the money, Fisher said.

The suspect is identified as a white male, 40 years old, 6-foot, 190 to 200 pounds, dark hair and brown eyes and a black and gray beard.

Fisher said that anybody receiving such a phone call should contact the police immediately.

Chamber Board Names Hanson As President

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry Board of Directors has appointed Larry Hanson, manager of B. J.'s Fitness Center, as president for 1986.

The appointments will be effective after the Jan. 7 chamber meeting and an installation dinner will be Jan. 25.

Carol Badame, owner of Weasel's Restaurant, will step down from the position she took over in July after Jeff Mulder resigned.

Dennis Dempsey, of Century Oaks Cabinet, will be first vice president, which was left vacant after Badame moved up to president. Ray DeMartini, an attorney of Larson, Gantar and DeMartini, will take over the vice president's seat. Dick Paddock will move from vice president to treasurer seat vacated by Dempsey.

Cathy Galdine, of Galdine Multi-Circuit Boards, will be the secretary.

Three board seats were up for election, but there was no election because only three candidates were interested in the positions.

Badame said a committee of the board chose eight people who were nominated to be on the ballot, but only three showed interest in the positions.

Taking over positions on the board of directors are Eric Whitten, plant manager of Regal China; Ray Scarpelli, Jr., of Raymond Chevrolet; and Stan Luta, Antioch postmaster.

Leaving their board seats after three years are Badame and Laddie Korecek, part owner of Johnson Jewelers, Sandy Siegmier, of Four Squires, resigned from her seat in September.

Florence Babusek, marketing director of the State Bank of Antioch, will start her second year on the board of directors.

County To Study New Sales Tax Money Plan

Beginning Jan. 1, 1986, implementation of a new one- Illinois county governments quarter percent sales tax on will be considering im- all retail transactions conducted within the county boundaries.

The new 1/4 percent county sales tax was authorized in a state law passed in the closing days of the 1985 session of the Illinois General Assembly. By acting between Jan. 1 and April 1, county boards in all counties except Cook, may impose the tax (effective July 1, 1986) by a majority vote. No referendum is required.

The same legislation also mandates a reduction in the respective county property tax levy ceiling by .03 percent. But the new revenue gained via the sales tax boost is in most cases five-times greater than the relatively minor property tax reduction. If enacted in all 101 counties, the new tax would generate in excess of $75 million, according to the Illinois Dept. of Revenue. Clearly, unless county boards voluntarily lower property tax levels beyond the mandate of the new law, the result will be a major tax increase, pointed out David F. Vite, president of the Illinois Retail Merchants Assn.

The continuing saga of new rates and taxes spun by state and local government has entangled Illinois in the highest and most complicated sales tax system in the Midwest. Wisconsin, Iowa, Kentucky and Indiana all have uniform statewide sales tax rates. Illinois' rates, on the other hand, range from eight percent in Chicago to five percent in some downstate communities.

The new local tax option also gives Illinois another competitive disadvantage with border states. The new rates may range from 6 1/4 to 6 1/2 percent and will create differences as much as 2 1/4 on the Iowa border and 1 1/4 on the Wisconsin, Kentucky and Indiana borders (these differences do not reflect any home rule sales taxes which may already exist).

Many county boards have already approved fiscal year 1986 budgets which anticipate revenue from the new 1/4 percent sales tax. New demands placed upon local governments have created the need for alternative sources of funding for services.

Neighbor, Fire Dept. Keep Blaze To Garage

Dave Hernandez, his wife and two other Spanish-speaking tenants ran into some luck the very early morning of Dec. 19.

A midnight garage fire speculated to have started from Hernandez's 1970 Chevy Nova destroyed the one-car garage but didn't quite make it to his home at 40532 Marcus, near Bluff Lake.

Antioch Fire Capt. Wayne Parthun said one of Hernandez's tenants was watching television when he heard a large, sudden "popp." Everyone else in the house was asleep.

The tenant did not call the fire department because he did not speak English. He ran to his bilingual neighbor who then called the fire department for help.

The fire department concentrated on keeping a water wall in the three-foot separation of the garage and the house. Parthun said the damage to the house was kept to a minimum and the occupants were able to return that same night. He added neighbors offered assistance to the occupants.

The dwelling did have a fire detector, but it had no batteries, Parthun said.

PM & L To Keep Christmas Alive

When the magic of Christmas day has worn off, the magic at PM & L will begin with the theatre group's presentation of "Hubbard For The Holidays." Performance times and dates are: Saturday, Dec. 28, 11:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. and Sunday, Dec. 29 in the afternoon only.

"Hubbard For The Holidays" features the magic of well-known area magician Tom Hubbard. Tom has requested that children who come to the show wash behind their ears because he often finds coins growing in that fertile "behind the ears" soil. Perhaps he'll find one behind your ear.

Tom will be assisted by Peter Thelen on the piano, Debby Ramsey with her juggling, and the members of the Antioch High Clown Club doing the ushering. Door donations of $2 per person will go to the PM & L Building Fund. Don't let the magic of Christmas die, let it continue by adding "Hubbard For The Holidays" to your plans at the PM & L Theatre, 877 Main St., Antioch. For reservations call (312) 395-3055.

Antioch Dentist—Next Mr. USA?

by KAREN WILTBERGER

The title of Mr. USA doesn't come easy—especially for those who have a professional career to pursue eight hours a day.

But the national body building title is the next goal of oral surgeon Val Vallesse who in September joined the practice of Antioch dentist Robert T. Sven, 439 Lake St.

After winning several body building awards, the 27-year-old dentist, who lives in Lake Geneva, Wis., is busy training for the Mr. USA competition scheduled for July.

"It would be easier for me if I wasn't working so much. But the only really tough time is right before the competition," said Vallesse, who has missed a total of four work days due to competitions.

"For most men in the professional ranks, body building is a life aspiration. Most are sponsored by gyms and train all day long," he said. "I want to win a national contest, but I try not to take contests so seriously that I get so wrapped up in it that I don't do anything else."

Twelve weeks before a competition Vallesse will work out twice a day six days a week. He will weightlift from 5:30 to 8 a.m. and practice aerobics and posing techniques for an hour in the evenings.

"My social life deteriorates during that time," Vallesse explained. "I'm always dieting and working out. I've lost up to 30 pounds before a competition."

Vallesse, who tries to compete in at least one body building competition a year, may get his weight up to 220 and then come down to 190 right before a contest.

During the months away from a contest, Vallesse cuts his work out sessions to four days a week, but he is set on staying on a rigid eating schedule: "I eat every three hours. I have to get up early to pack all the food I'm going to eat all day."

In the last three years Vallesse has ranked high in a number of body building competitions. In 1984, he earned the title of Mr. Wisconsin and placed second in the Mr. Midwest competition.

In 1983, he earned the titles of Mr. Milwaukee and Mr. Badger. In June he placed in the top five in the Jr. Mr. America competition, which qualified him to compete for the Mr. USA title.

Vallesse entered his first body building competition in 1982 while in dentistry school at Marquette University. A man he worked out with entered a power lifting event at the YMCA and nudged Vallesse into entering the association's body building competition.

From there he used body building not just as a diversion from academic stress, but as a competitive sport. He has a trainer at the Weight Station in Lake Geneva. His older brother from New Jersey travels to competitions as his manager.

"When I do something I have to do it 100 percent," he said. "So to do that I need a goal."

Vallesse works hard in the office and in the gym. He said he enjoys the respect of a doctor, but also likes to be one of the guys in the gym.

"I don't tell many people that I'm a dentist because they won't believe me anyway. It's not a real well-liked profession and the next thing you know they'll be opening their mouths and telling you they have a tooth ache."

And at the office, Vallesse keeps a low profile about body building, but people still notice that something is "different" about him.

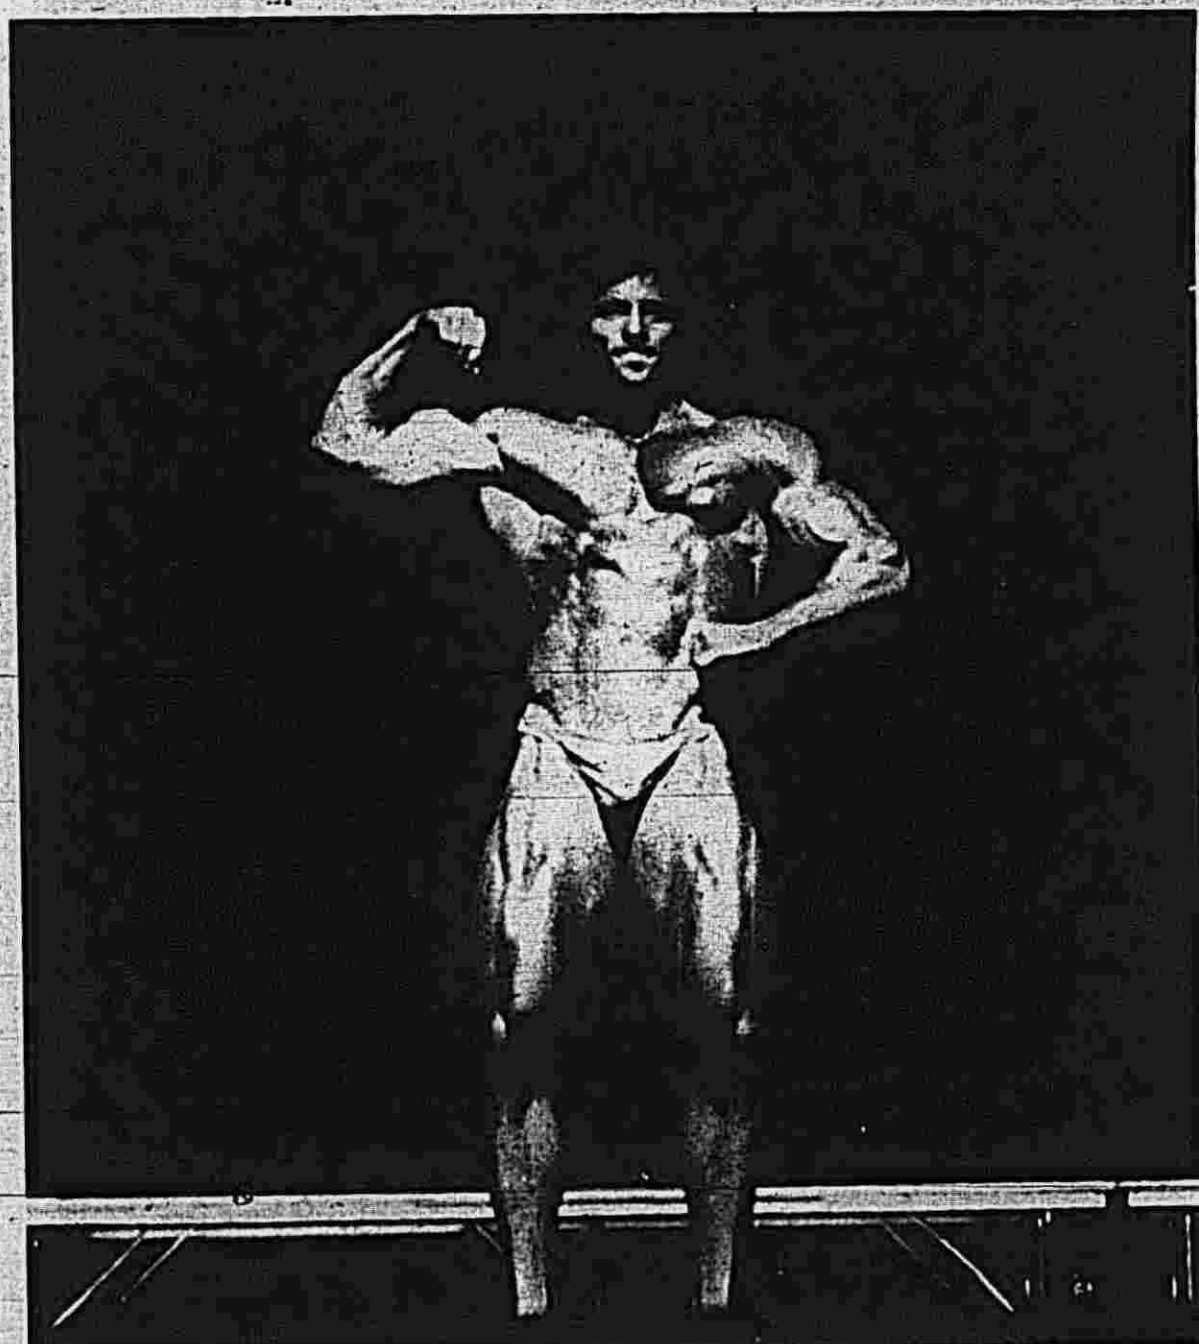

"It's good and bad. Mostly I look young and people are less apt to have respect for me as a professional dentist. I just don't look like a dentist."

"Patients will be asking me, 'How old are you?' or 'Did you graduate?'. Their initial reactions are I look a little too young."

But Vallesse said he answers the questions and after a while people understand that he is out there to do a job. Children, on the other hand, don't ask the questions so he tries to distract them by talking about their favorite sport—and only if body building brought up will he talk about it.

Before coming to Antioch, Vallesse worked at Hudson Family Dental Services in New York, where he primarily worked with handicapped patients. The dentist who had created the special position, he explained, hurt his back and nobody else wanted the job.

"It was a good challenge," said Vallesse, recalling a 210-pound girl patient who would

'Owl' To Grace New Stage

Spotlight please! The former ballroom of the 128-year-old Grand Hotel on Main St. in downtown Wauconda has been magically transformed into a theater.

Grand Stage Productions' director Bob Colson announces that there is a place for live, professional theater in Wauconda...and that place is the newly constructed stage at The Grand Hotel.

Offering the village a platform for performance, the stage will tap both local and out-of-town talent when it opens the 1986 season with "The Owl and the Pussycat" on Jan. 10. This smash hit comedy will run Friday and Saturday evenings, as well as Sunday afternoons, through Feb. 2.

A longtime Wauconda showman (with a long history of local acting and directing), Colson's love for the theater has inspired him to revive The Grand Hotel's abandoned ballroom with drama, passion and laughter. "There's something about live theater that you just don't get from a movie or television," Colson claims. "Every performance is just a bit different. Then too, with live actors, the audience tends to get more involved."

it's just more fun, more exciting.

"Going to a live play turns a night on the town into a big event," he says with a sparkle in his eye.

"We're just turning things around a little," Colson explains. "Instead of making audiences go way downtown to see professional theatre, we're bringing the professional actors out here."

The Grand's grand opening performance features two professionals in the two-member cast of "The Owl and the Pussycat." Madelyn Sergel and Skip Grisham. Sergel toured with "Spoon River Anthology" and acted in many plays in the Chicago area and New York. Grisham is a newcomer to the Midwest from Texas. In addition to his stage performances, he's appeared in films, commercials and nightclub shows.

Adelines Invite Joiners

The Chain O'Lakes Chapter of the Sweet Adelines is one of 750 chapters, originated by a small group of women in Tulsa, Okla. in 1945. With a common love for musical harmonizing and fellowship, the Sweet Adelines have increased their members to over 35,000 strong, from Alaska to the Republic of Panama, from east to west coast and extending over seas to Hawaii, England, the Netherlands, Sweden and Japan, and are now an international educational organization whose purpose is to teach and train women in the art of four-part harmony, barbershop style, and to provide entertainment through chorus and quartet performances.

Barbershop style is harmony produced by four voice parts, one to fit any range, lead tenor, baritone and bass. Most Sweet Adelines choruses are a mixture of all ages, with different interests, occupations and backgrounds.

The Chain O'Lakes Chapter was born with the merging of McHenry County and Lake County Chapters in 1982 and in 1984 they won third place medal in it's yearly regional competition

Kelly Geist

Kelly Geist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Les Geist, of Antioch, has been named on the dean's list for the first quarter at Ferris State College.

Geist, a freshman, is majoring in automotive in the School of Technology. A 3.5 grade point average and at least 12 hours per term are minimum criteria for making the list.

and have dreams and ambition of becoming number one in the near future.

Next year they will compete in the regionals in Grand Rapids, Mich., and if that dream comes true will go on the following year to the international competition in Hawaii.

The regional competition is held in the spring of each year and the international is held in the fall of each year. Chain O'Lakes is part of Region 3, which has 20 chapters covering Illinois, Michigan and a small part of Indiana.

The international convention, is the highlight of the year, when thousands of Sweet Adelines join in several days of harmony and fun. The regional champions join others from all over the world to compete in the international quartet and chorus competition and then the thrill of hearing the champions names being called.

Being a non profit organization, most chapters have an annual show, which is their main source of income for the year. Having just succeed'ed with their fall show "Where Jazz Is Hot", the Chain O'Lakes is preparing themselves for their competition to be held in May. "Wow! what a show!

If there is a year for them to become regional champs, this is it! They have all the components to achieve this goal", director Jim Arns said.

"I hope all of you are feeling good about yourselves as I am of all of you. It is truly an honor to be president of such a fantastic bunch. Thanks for being you" said Pat Catencamp. "It has given me friendship-and-fellowship," she said, "and the young girls treat me like one of them." said the choruses oldest member, 79 year young Helen Buschick, who's been a Sweet Adeline since 1963: "It's a lot of fun."

Chain O'Lakes newest member is Lisa Cummings. "I joined the chorus because I like to sing, and because Jim is so dynamic!" said Lisa.

Anyone who likes to sing, and wants to have fun and make friends, Chain O'Lakes Chapter invites women over 16 to be their guest for five weeks, which at that time they will be asked to join Sweet Adelines Inc., be trained to sing four-part harmony, and possibly be eligible to sing with the chorus in their regional competition.

Rehearsals under the direction of Arns, an excellent teacher, meets at Mundelein High School, 1350 Hawley St. on Thursday nights at 8 p.m. in the choral room. For more information call: Julie (312) 356-7526, Ruth (312) 362-0886 or Mame (312) 623-4251 or 395-9050.

The Chain O'Lakes has entertained for many civic events, social organizations and senior citizen groups throughout Lake and McHenry county. The chapter offers any club or organization harmonious barbershop sounds of a chorus, double quartets or a quartet to fit your needs. For more information call: Nancy (815) 385-3481 or Ruth (312) 362-0886.

Holiday Park Plans New Musical Revue

Holiday Park is pleased to announce that due to the unprecedented popularity of the musical revue "Social Security And Sensible Shoes", they have decided to bring back The Smiths in an all new musical extravaganza, "Social Security And Sensible Shoes, Part II."

The Smiths will introduce their daughter, Dana, and join Ed Pratt in a show filled with good music, beautiful costumes, delightful comedy and a little participation by all.

"Social Security And Sensible Shoes, Part II" will have a limited engagement; February 1, 1986-June 30, 1986.

July 1, marks the opening of another delightful new musical by Sandra Smith. "Bosom Buddies". This zany musical comedy revolves around three wealthy matrons, Birdie, Bunny and Belle, who decide to put on a charity show to "Save the Peacocks in the Park".

The fun shifts into high gear when the three madcap ladies meet for lunch to rehearse some musical numbers and are accosted by Belle's hilariously funny maid, Chi Chi Ridriguez who has some show stopping ideas of her own.

This fast-paced funny musical will keep the audience humming along with some wonderful old songs and holding their sides with laughter. "Bosom Buddies" will be available July 1, Nov. 15, 1986.

Since Holiday Park is presenting two new shows this season they are also offering a special two show discount to those who make reservations for both shows before April 1, 1986.

Tickets for "Social Security And Sensible Shoes, Part II" will be $16.90 inclusive.

Those groups who make reservations for both shows before April 1, 1986 will receive "Bosom Buddies" tickets for only $14.90 inclusive (a $2 savings per ticket.) Groups of 40 or more will receive complimentary tickets for bus driver and group leader for each 40 people in attendance.

Watson Set For Woodstock Opera

Watson played to an enthusiastic, capacity house in August 1984. Generally recognized as a bluegrass performer, he is proficient in many musical styles, and is credited with revolutionizing the role of the acoustic guitar in traditional country music.

Estimating that he knows more than 800 songs by heart, Watson's concert performances will typically include traditional American folk ballads, bluegrass tunes, country-and-western music, blues, early rock-and-roll standards, as well as songs by contemporary artists.

A three time Grammy award winner, Doc's 34th career album, "Pickin' The Blues," has recently been released by Flying Fish Records.

Hospital Will Babysit While Parents Work

Working parents with children too sick to attend school or day care will be able to bring their children to Kenosha Memorial Hospital (KMH) under a new service at KMH called Sniffles.

Sniffles is for children between the ages of six months and 14 years who are mildly ill with illnesses such as the flu, fever, congestion, tonsillitis, colds, bronchitis, pharyngitis, ear infection or diarrhea.

"Sniffles cannot serve children with contagious diseases or infections such as chicken pox, scabies, measles, mumps, hepatitis or whooping cough."

"With more parents working, it becomes a difficult decision for them on days when their children are too ill to attend school or day care," says Susan Ventura, director of nursing at KMH. Sniffles gives them an option they never had before. KMH has an excellent pediatric unit staffed with professionals that will take care of the children in the Sniffles program.

"Parents will be able to go to work without worrying that their sick children are getting the proper attention."

Cost for Sniffles is $2.50 per hour. Sniffles is available Monday through Friday from 6 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Pre-registration is requested. Parents must come to the sixth floor of the Palmer Wing at KMH with their child's immunization records.

"Once registered, we have the child's record on file enabling the parent to call the center on days when the child needs the service," says Ventura.

For more information on Sniffles, call (414) 656-2262.

STAR Sheds Light On Coping With Death

by STACIE ELLIS

It is cold and bitter. The Midwestern world is glazed with ice, but Christmas tree lights flicker to tap the human hope that often gets buried along with perennials beneath the snow.

The Christmas celebration is a perennial reminder of humanity's hope for rebirth and salvation, but for each ornament hung on the Christmas tree, there is an aching heart and that ache grows stronger at this especially sentimental time of year.

Just as each twinkling string of Christmas tree lights brings life to the tree, it most likely brings to life the string of memories that someone shared with a loved one who died. For this person, Christmas is no time for rejoicing, but rather a time of grief. And most often, it is a time of heart wrenching over a grief that has gone unexpressed.

For those people who find Christmas the bleakest instead of the 'most wonderful time of the year,' the Hospice STAR flickers brilliantly in the not-too-far-off distance of Waukegan to symbolize hope, rebirth and the celebration of life.

The parable of the Christmas star is mortalized daily by the STAR workers of the St. Therese hospice who accompany the art of living with the art of dying through a three-phase hospice program that comforts the dying as well as the living.

As the wisemen followed the bright Christmas star in search of wonder and rebirth, the St. Therese Hospital's Alternate Response (STAR) Hospice team seeks the full meaning of life and goodness by helping all those whose lives are affected by a terminal illness.

"Our philosophy is to provide care for the terminally ill whether or not they can pay for it," STAR Director Karen McArdle, R.N. says. "To stay in business, so to speak, we have to rely on the goodness of other people."

The STAR hospice, because of its philanthropic nature, operates at a deficit and relies on contributions and volunteer workers. The volunteers, as well as the professionals, are selected for the STAR team based upon respect for the human experience.

"I look for people who, number one, have a good philosophy of life, enjoy life and have a good time, but at the same time recognize that life doesn't go on forever," McArdle says.

"Your philosophy of life and people make you a good hospice person. Education is important but when you come eyeball to eyeball with a dying person, it's not going to come from education. It's going to come from what's inside of you," she continues.

People wish to become hospice workers either because they had a bad experience through an unrecognized death of a relative or friend or had a healthy experience and want to relay that to others, McArdle says.

The unique service provided by the STAR team of professionals and volunteers is founded upon the conviction that life, from birth to death, is the passage from one stage to another in the journey through this world to eternal life.

"We can't dwell on death, we dwell on life," McArdle says. "We value life more and more through each successive death."

The STAR team is available on a 24-hour, seven-day-a-week basis, to provide care and comfort for the terminally ill patient and his or her family through its home care, hospitalization or bereavement services.

Terminally ill patients are admitted to the STAR Hospice Unit based upon the following guidelines: the patient and his or her family are aware of the diagnosis and the life-threatening nature of the illness; control of acute symptoms of the terminal illness (pain, nausea, discomfort) is the focus of treatment chosen by the patient as opposed to aggressive or experimental treatment to cure the disease; and the patient (or the care giver with whom the patient will live) resides in northern Lake County in the service area of the STAR Hospice.

Upon admission to the STAR Hospice, three types of service are available to the patient and his or her family to provide the utmost comfort during this difficult stage.

At $20 a week, a STAR patient is provided with on-call 24-hour home care service by the hospice's own staff of nurses, social workers and volunteers. Most of the STAR's terminally ill patients are at home and it is the hospice's aim to keep the patient and family as comfortable for as long as possible in their own home.

When acute symptoms develop that the family can't handle, the patient will enter the STAR Hospice 10-bed unit. Often, a patient will come to the Hospice Unit to die to spare their family the pain and to spend their last few days in the homelike setting of the STAR Unit but with all the conveniences of a hospital.

During recovery or the patient's last days, family and friends are allowed to visit the STAR Hospice Unit anytime of the day or night. The fees for the in-patient unit are the same as those for the rest of the hospital.

After a patient dies, the STAR Hospice's involvement with the family lives on for about 18 months in the form of a free bereavement support routine. During this time, STAR workers will meet with or call the family to ensure that they are coping with their grief.

"Grief is a little understood phenomenon in our society and it takes people a long time to

In Celebration Of Life

"We don't dwell on death, we dwell on life," STAR Hospice director Karen McArdle says. McArdle, left, and volunteer coordinator Whelma Guimond decorate the living room of the 10-bed Hospice Unit for Christmas. The unit provides a comfortable, homelike atmosphere for in-patients who are terminally ill.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Is everyone having fun? From the parties I have attended, it looks as though everyone is in a very festive mood! Just remember to be safe and catch a ride home—or walk as some people do!

Just think, after all of the holiday parties are over, there are still things to look forward to. Tod Maplethorpe's retirement party is being held at the Tower Room on Jan. 14 with cocktails at 6:30 and dinner at 7 p.m. The tickets are $12 and can be purchased at the village hall. Call (312) 395-1000 for your ticket NOW! I hear there will be some type of special entertainment—sounds like fun!

I hope Santa gives everyone what they want for Christmas. Make sure you let me know about all of the diamonds that are given for Christmas this year!

Speaking of Santa—he received a letter from Denmark this year and it was written in Danish. Of course Santa can read and write any language!

I hope everyone has a Merry Christmas and you all get what you want!

Goebel Case Ends With Guilty Plea

James Goebel, former Lake County school substitute teacher, was sentenced to 10 years in prison after pleading guilty to a lone charge of child pornography on Dec. 19.

Goebel, 55, is to serve the sentence after he completes a six-year prison sentence he received in November for charges of sexually abusing two Waukegan school children.

The guilty plea and a decision to waive a formal sentencing hearing came in Lake County Circuit Court three weeks before Goebel was scheduled to face a third of at least eight more trials.

Prosecutors Ted Polkonjak and Vicki Rossetti dropped the remaining charges against the Spring Grove man in the negotiated plea.

Goebel will be eligible for parole in eight years.

Goebel was convicted twice before while a substitute teacher in the Chicago public school system. In 1966 and 1972 he was convicted of taking indecent liberties with a child.

The Goebel case is a prime factor behind a state law that requires schools to check criminal backgrounds of prospective employees.

Pet Of The Week

Taffy is the best friend of Kathy Larson of Wauconda. According to Kathy, Taffy is both intelligent and lovable. The little white bundle sits in the window and watches for the mailman and seems to miss him on Sundays. Taffy is 10 years old but as frisky as a pup. She shares the family's emotions wholeheartedly--when they are sad, Taffy is sad and when they are happy, so is Taffy. When they go out, she is always there to "welcome" them home. When they get into the house, she gives them an angry bark and a fiery look for having left her alone. Taffy is independent and only wants to be held when she's tired and when she wants to be loved. Kathy says the family loves Taffy so much that they always take her on trips with them as opposed to leaving her in a kennel. If you have a "friend" like Taffy, we'd like to meet him. Contact the editor of this newspaper for information.

Troop 92 Boy Scouts Receive, Give Honors

Antioch's Boy Scouts of America Troop 92 was honored at the annual Lakes District recognition dinner on Dec. 7. Troop 92 qualified for the leadership category of the 1985 Sustaining Membership Enrollment, and the troop was among the 1985 Honor Units. Scoutmaster Bernie Dost received an award for his contribution to the planning of the 75th anniversary Jamboree.

In addition, Troop 92 received the first place trophy for winning the Council-wide First Aid Meet. Finally, the troop received a very special award, the Tom C. Clark Award of the National Park Foundation.

The Clark award was presented to the Troop 92 for its four years of joint efforts with the Chain O' Lakes State Park in the construction and maintenance of 30 wood duck nests throughout the park. The award was presented by Ranger Ray Eisbrenner, who initiated the project.

At its annual Christmas dinner party and Court of Honor on Dec. 8, Troop 92 awarded honors to a number of individuals for their accomplishments in 1985.

Recognition was given to the troop's patrols which won first and second place honors at the District First Aid Meet, place at the Council First Aid Meet, second, third and seventh place at the Klondike Derby, and first, fourth and fifth place in the Spring Camporee.

Senior Patrol Leader Brian Clark was recognized for serving on staff at the Troop Leader Training camp. Michael Cain, Stephen Goetzelman, Robert Paschke and David Weston were recognized for their participation in Junior Leadership Training.

During 1985 Troop 92 performed 13 investitures. The scouts earned 53 skill awards, 100 merit badges, and 24 rank advancements for the year.

During the ceremony, each scout was called forward while his accomplishments were read. In addition, three boys were invested as new scouts in Troop 92: Jim Esteb, Gene Polec, and Dave Stachel.

This year's certificates of appreciation were given to Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 525, A to Z Rental of Antioch, Corbin's Travel Agency, Great American Federal Savings and Loan, Foremost Liquor of Antioch, Gerken's Egg Farm, Mr. Andrew Lynch, 1st National Bank of Antioch, Saint Peter's Women's Club, Mr. Frank Schultz, State Bank of Antioch, and VFW Post 4551.

Finally, special individual awards were presented. Dick Stroner received a plaque for 25 years of continuous service as chief chef at the annual scout spaghetti dinner. Jerry Dost was awarded a plaque for 25 years of behind-the-scenes matriarchal devotion to the troop. Paul Hettich won the Key Man Award for service as a committee member and his wife, Mary Ann, was presented with a corsage. Following the Court of Honor and the awards, Troop 92 and its guests received a surprise visit from Santa. The troop extends its thanks to Mayor Toft, Troop 92 for his special participation in this event. Troop 92 is sponsored by Loyal Order of the Moose Lodge 525 of Antioch. The troop also thanks area residents who continue to bring newspapers (magazines, catalogs and cardboard can not be used) to the VFW trailer by the sawmill.

The Time Machine

Ten Years Ago: December 24, 1975

Jack Siegmeyer, manager of the Four Squires clothing store, has been elected president of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry for 1976. He will succeed Atty. F. James Lumber. The announcement was made at the chamber's Dec. board meeting.

The Christmas Food Project, sponsored by the Antioch High School student council, raised more than $200.

Antioch Community High School's enrollment as of Dec. 1 was 1,642 students.

Last January Larry Leafblad, radio personality of WKRS-Waukegan, quit smoking on the air and set an example that more than 100 other people followed. Larry has not smoked since and is having a one-year anniversary show to celebrate.

Thirty Years Ago: December 29, 1955

Approximately 100 couples attended the senior class formal dance "Winter Fantasy" at Antioch Township High School Friday evening. The event attracted many alumni home for the holidays.

With an occasional exception Christmas was a joyous event for most of the people in the Antioch area. Although the traditional snow covered ground was lacking, the weather was more like that of Palestine at the time the Christ child was born.

The year 1956 will be ushered in next Sunday night. Whereas Christmas was ushered in Saturday night with an extra legal holiday Monday, the public will have to be satisfied with the one-day holiday for the New Year celebration.

Fifty Years Ago: December 26, 1935

More than 300 children and a large number of adults were in attendance at the tenth annual Christmas party at S. H. Reeves' drug store in Antioch Saturday evening where Santa Claus, in person, arrived at 7 p.m.

Antioch firemen hit the road twice within the past week extinguishing a roof blaze at the home of the Rev. J. E. Charles, Main street, Antioch, and saving cattle, pigs and poultry at the Hejl farm at Hickory Corners.

While advancing on a rabbit which he and a companion were hunting Monday in a slough on the Jim Johnson farm north of Antioch, James P. Keegan, 55, tripped and fell, discharging his single-shot shotgun which resulted in his death.

Gibson Completes Training

Army Private Jeffery S. Gibson, son of Janet Robare and stepson of Larry Robare of 350 Maplewood Dr., Antioch, has completed one station unit training (OSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training.

The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations. Completion of this course qualifies the soldier as a light-weapons infantryman and as an indirect-fire crewman.

Children's Home

Robert McDonald, W.M. of Sequoit Masonic Lodge No. 827, announces that the lodge has donated five bags of toys, games and art supplies to the Central Baptist Children's Home in Lake Villa.

The presents will be distributed to needy children throughout Lake County at Christmas parties sponsored by the children's home. The brothers of the Sequoit Lodge also made a cash donation toward the cost of putting the parties on for the children.

Yastrow-TenPas Clash To Spice GOP Ballot

A third contest was assured in the March Republican primary when Lawrence V. TenPas of Waukegan filed nominating petitions for regional superintendent of schools.

TenPas will face Sybil Yastrow, presently assistant county superintendent under County Supt. William Thompson, who is retiring.

Other GOP primary contest will be between incumbent Sheriff Robert "Mickey" Babcox vs. Don Mason of Lake Villa and the much anticipated clash for the county clerk nomination between Venita McConnell of Waukegan and Donna-Mae Nix Litwiler of Ingleside.

There will be no Democratic contest in the primary for county-wide office.

The Democratic county slate will be headed by incumbent County Clerk Linda Hess. Unopposed candidates include Sander P. Stagman of Highland Park, sheriff, and Bradley Berman, county treasurer.

Barring a write-in effort, the Democrats will not field a candidate for the county school post.

TenPas has been active in Waukegan politics for a number of years and is a former Waukegan alderman.

He is employed as a driver education teacher in the Waukegan public schools. TenPas was an outstanding intercollegiate wrestler. He holds an all grade supervisory certificate.

His opponent has been with the county school office for 10 years. She is a resident of Deerfield.

County Treasurer Jack "Red" Anderson will be seeking renomination unopposed in the GOP primary.

Capt. 'Pete' Piotrowski Retires From Reserve

With fellow reservists and the Navy Band, Great Lakes standing by, Captain "Pete" Piotrowski was officially piped ashore for the final time after 33 years of service at ceremonies at the Great Lakes Naval Reserve Training Center.

Captain Piotrowski, division manager/National Advertising for a Chicago newspaper, first enlisted in the Navy in 1952, attending recruit training at Great Lakes.

After specialized schooling, Piotrowski spent four years in Yokosuka, Japan, where he earned three letters of commendation for his assignment at the Navy Supply Depot. He subsequently received a direct commission as an Ensign into the Navy Supply Corps, U.S. Reserve.

Since then, Captain Piotrowski has been assigned to various Naval Reserve units in the Chicago area. In 1981, he received the Joint Service Commendation Medal from the Defense Logistic Agency.

In 1984, he received his promotion to Captain, USNR. His most recent assignment was with the Commander in Chief, Naval Forces Europe, Great Lakes.

"I'd do it all over again...starting tomorrow," commented "Pete" Piotrowski at the retirement ceremony. A follow-up cocktail reception was held in his honor at the Officers Club, Glenview Naval Air Station.

Captain Piotrowski resides at 2432 Fontana Dr., Glenview, with his wife, Mary Teresa Kelly and their three children, Marc, Luke and Dorothy.

New Equipment Enhances Program

A purchase by the College of Lake County (CLC) of a new state-of-the-art X-ray unit, manufactured by Raytheon Corp., will ensure that CLC radiography students have an opportunity to work with modern diagnostic X-ray equipment very similar to the equipment used in area hospitals, according to Tom Vogl, CLC radiography coordinator.

The new X-ray machine, which cost $21,000, replaced a unit that was produced in the late 1950's and donated to the CLC Radiography Program by Highland Park Hospital when the program was established by the college.

At the same time the new equipment was installed, the original X-ray machine and another unit, donated to CLC by Dependable X-Ray, Grayslake, were reinstalled as non-energized units for student practice.

As a result, capacity in the radiography lab has increased from one to three stations for students to practice performing radiographic examinations.

Although no radiographic examinations on humans are performed at the college, the new equipment meets or exceeds all state and federal requirements for radiation protection.

The radiography program at CLC is a two-year, Associate of Applied Sciences degree program which includes both didactic and clinical experiences.

Currently, Highland Park Hospital and Victory Memorial Hospital in Waukegan provide the clinical component of instruction which is required in the program.

Additional information on the radiography program may be obtained by contacting Vogl at (312) 223-6601, ext. 313, or the Office of Admission at (312) 223-8800.

Red Cross Plans Dance

The Lake County Dist. of the American Red Cross announced that its fifth annual "Dinner Dance" will be held on Saturday, Jan. 18, at the Holiday Inn in Mundelein.

According to Red Cross volunteer Phil Vetrone, who heads the "Dinner Dance" committee, this event has steadily grown over the years and has become a terrific fundraiser for the Red Cross in Lake County.

"The evening will begin with cocktails and a full-course meal," said Vetrone.

"Then after dinner, the dancing starts with music provided by the ten-piece Albert Nye Orchestra. This band, back by popular demand, specialized in 40's and 50's style swing music and is great for dancing," he added.

Tickets for both the dinner and the dance are $25 per person. For people interested in only dancing, tickets are $10 per couple. Anyone wanting tickets or more information should call the Red Cross at (312) 949-1000.

Hotel Name Selected

The newest hotel in northern Illinois, now under construction, will be named "Tamara Royale Inn." The name was selected out of 207 entries in a contest. The place is being developed by John Tyshenko and his wife, Tamara, who also own and operate Chateau Royale in Lake Geneva.

Home & Energy Show

Housed in temporary structures, the Eighth Annual Home & Energy Show will be back at its original home, the Arlington Park Race Track, for an April 2-6 run.

Why electric heat pump owners have second thoughts when the weather gets cold.

For people who bought electric heat pumps, cold weather can be bad news indeed.

Because heat pumps lose capacity as the outside temperature drops. At some point, usually right around freezing, they need help from a backup heating system. Usually, it's electric resistance heating, so you end up heating your home with one of the costliest heating systems just when the weather gets really cold.

In contrast, gas furnaces and boilers have no trouble coping efficiently with severe winters. Whatever the outside temperature, the new high efficiency models can continue to squeeze up to 95% of the available heat out of every cubic foot of gas. So you're getting maximum efficiency to minimize heating costs in bitter cold weather.

Another argument for a gas furnace or boiler is the cost of natural gas itself. Today, it's the least expensive fuel available in this area, and current forecasts indicate it will continue to maintain a strong competitive advantage for years to come.

If you're thinking about adding to or replacing your home heating system, we strongly suggest you go with natural gas. It's the only way to be sure you won't be having second thoughts when winter comes to Illinois.

New Life For Des Plaines

A new lease on life is in store for the historic DesPlaines River, a waterway meandering through eastern Lake County that has been pillaged and plundered as much as any river in the midwest since the arrival of the white man.

Approximately 300 years after the early French explorers wended their way south in canoes through what is now northern Illinois, an innovative program will be undertaken to restore a portion of the DesPlaines in the vicinity of the Village of Wadsworth.

Under the auspices of Wetlands Research Inc., a five year program with a budget in excess of $9 million will begin in March of 1986 to restore the river and adjacent lands to what is believed to have been its state in the middle 1800's. An estimated 400 acres will be involved, all but a small part of it on land controlled by the Lake County Forest Preserve District.

The program, which already has attracted national attention, will be directed by Donald Hey, Ph.D., executive director of Wetlands Research. On the basis of his 20 years research, Dr. Hey has designed an extensive excavation program to construct saucer-like depressions for water retention. With a system of pumps and hydraulic flow gates, water will be directed to the holding facilities to recharge the natural wetlands that have been drained over the years for farming and extensive gravel mining. With the restoration of the wetlands, the stage will be set for reintroduction of the flora and fauna known to be present a century ago. One of the things to be done will be burning off extensive scrub wooded growth along the banks to enable the natural prairie grasses to grow again. Dr. Hey hastens to add that modern man will not be forgotten in the wetlands restoration. For instance, there will be facilities for canoeing and fishing.

Besides the landmark wetlands restoration, Dr. Hey envisions immediate flood control benefits besides the obvious aesthetic benefits. Even before the five year project has been completed, it is hoped that DesPlaines River improvements in the Wadsworth area will trigger efforts to make improvements downstream. Sadly, over the years man has seen the DesPlaines only in terms of its ability to receive effluent from sewage treatment plants and as a periodic flooding nuisance. Obviously there is much work to be done in Gurnee, Libertyville and Vernon Township as the DesPlaines flows south toward Chicago.

Substantial private and corporate contributions have been made toward funding the project along with acquisition of federal and state grants. DesPlaines restoration truly is involving concerned citizens from many walks of life and is destined to be heralded as an example of how mankind can care for natural resources instead of being a destructive force.

Lakeland's Newest Industry

On the economic front, one of the safe predictions for 1986 is that Lake County will be coming into its own in the tourism and recreation industry. This locality has rich promise of being superseded only by Chicago and Springfield's Lincolnland as a major tourism destination. This fact bodes well for the local economy.

Early in 1986, the Lake County Convention & Visitor's Bureau will be headed by a permanent director who will be working with a budget in excess of $400,000 to spur an already significant tourism and recreation industry to greater heights. If this locality is being passed by in the move to high tech (we're not certain that it is) tourism and recreation certainly will supplant the heavy industry jobs lost over the years in the flight to the Sunbelt and the change of technology.

With more than two million annual attendance at Great America, year around visitation for graduation at Great Lakes Naval Training Center and the hordes of fun seekers descending on the Chain O'Lakes for summer fun, Lake County has a base for development as an outstanding destination point for vacationers.

The LCCVB, functioning a little more than a year as a creature of the county's individual chambers of commerce, is spearheading implementation of the hotel/motel tax that will provide a fund basis that can be translated into enormous potential through matching grants from the state and the "trickle" effect of tourism dollars. The best thing is that the hotel/motel tax can be put into place without any impact on local taxpayers.

Editor's Viewpoint

Miller Hangs Out 'Gone Fish'en Sign' From Bell System

by BILL SCHROEDER

Richard "Dick" Miller, Illinois Bell Telephone Co. community relations manager, officially retires during the holidays, ending a nearly 30-year career in the communications field.

The lanky telephone man with the ready smile probably knew more elected officials and telephone users than anyone in Lake County history. Miller's job was to "smooth over the bumps" in the delivery of telephone service and he had an uncanny knack of unknotting problems and explaining how the phone system works. Dick may not always have left unhappy phone patrons totally satisfied, but he never left them angry.

Over the years, Miller served as manager in local offices including Antioch, Round Lake, Evanston and DesPlaines. He also handled assignments at regional offices and Chicago headquarters of Illinois Bell. And, because of his early training, Dick also could install a telephone, a skill that was put to good use during some of Bell's protracted strikes.

Besides making friends for the telephone company, one of the most satisfying sides of Miller's job was economic development of Lake County. As a key member of the local communications establishment, his job took him to involvement in a wide variety of civic and business organizations, including the Waukegan/Lake County Chamber of Commerce, nearly every local chamber group, Lake County Urban League, United Way, and the newly organized Lake County Convention & Visitor's Bureau.

Dick and his wife, Blanche, are relocating from their home in Gurnee to a condo in Arkansas where he'll be able to fish and play golf every day year around, and there won't be any meetings to attend. From that vantage point, the Millers will be able to keep tabs on a growing number of grandchildren and acquaintances from Lake County who venture south for a visit.

If anyone from Illinois Bell is listening, we want you to know that Dick Miller will be sorely missed around here and that he is one heckuva act to follow.

*****

HIGHLY SOUGHT—The job of manager of the year-old Lake County Convention & Visitor's Bureau has attracted national attention.

More than 80 applications have been received for the post expected to be filled early in 1986. The position will pay in the low to middle $30's for managing an operation with a budget in excess of $400,000.

The LCCVB executive committee has whittled the initial list of applicants down to 12 for careful scrutiny and final screening. This group will make a recommendation made to bureau directors who are drawn from chambers of commerce throughout the county.

Charles Isley III, president of the Waukegan/Lake County Chamber of Commerce and a key tourism advocate, reported that more and more officials are becoming interested in how imposition of a local hotel-motel tax will provide funding for a high tech tourism promotion program.

"I think we'll see a majority of local municipalities putting the tax in place," declared Isley, who added that county officials also are working on imposing the tax for unincorporated areas.

The tax would be placed on room rentals and does not affect local taxpayers.

AVOIDABLE—A reader, who asked to remain anonymous, called to say that the fire tragedy resulting in five deaths in Round Lake could have been avoided if the residents only knew that help for repairing faulty furnaces is available by calling the proper agencies.

The information provided this column included the fact that the Illinois Dept. of Public Aid has a furnace program for needy families that would cover persons not qualified as regular aid recipients.

We also were informed that the Lake County Housing Authority has a furnace repair and replacement program available on a "call in" basis. "In an emergency situation, all that basically is needed for help is a telephone call," the reader reported.

The gas company offers below bank rate financing for installation of new high efficiency furnaces that can be obtained by anyone in need with virtually any kind of income. Everyone should be aware that in event of dire need the local township always is ready to provide immediate assistance to tide over a needy family until other help can be obtained.

"The point is," our caller opined, "that needy families don't have to expose themselves to danger if they know help is readily available." During winter weather, we know of at least one Lakeland heating contractor who repairs inoperative furnaces first and then worries about collecting for his services later.

Helpless, Hopeless

Editor:

I questioned the motives of the "Four For Democracy" when they were running for the Warren Township High School Board. I wondered why people were interested in taking charge of a school district when they don't even have children in the school. They ran on the premise that the residents should have input into decisions, that everyone would be heard. The "Four" were not able to attack the old board on any grounds other than their seeming lack of community input. Now they are ignoring the taxpayers. Many residents and the other board members expressed legitimate concerns, questions and arguments at the recent meetings. They were heard as promised—but were ignored. It was very obvious that the decisions had been made to fire the architect and general contractor before the meeting started.

Mr. Petersen said the previous architect would not guarantee a completion date or a cost ceiling. He selected another architectural firm who, by the way, has made no guarantee of a completion date or cost ceiling. Since the previous firm was under contract they are being bought out to the tune of $135,000, which must be paid by the taxpayers.

As a result of the decisions of these four more money is already being spent (for example, two law firms are under contract to WTHS now). We will have no desperately needed additional PE space, no new music department and no auditorium.

Do the "Four" care? Of course not—two of them have no children to attend WTHS, so why should they care? Mr. Petersen is building his private residence in Lake Forest and won't be living in the district, so why should he care?

I came away from the meeting with a helpless, hopeless feeling that no matter what anyone says or does they will do as they please. So, why bother going to the meetings? Because they should not be allowed to continue to make decisions that are beneficial to themselves and their friends at the expense of the students' welfare. They were elected to make decisions based on needs of the students and the community—it is already evident that these needs are of no concern to them.

So we must continue to attend every meeting, bring our neighbors, be heard. There must continue to be public outcry to their bulldozing decisions. If there is enough public involvement they surely must eventually listen.

Spirit Sinking

Editor:

As a result of the fire at Warren T.H.S. on Dec. 19, 1984, there has been a lot of controversy over the school. "Should we build a new school or should we rebuild the old one?" are a few. The old school board decided to give the public its choice. The choice arrived from the public was a strong and very firm "NO!" as most of you will recall. The school board then found a legal loophole to use life safety bonds received from the state to build the new school.

While all of this was going on, the "Fact Finding Committee" was formed. These people were anti-state-of-the-art school. After the loophole was found the Fact Finding Committee decided to run for the school. Four men, John Nosch, Jan Brennan, Robert Kofler and Esper Peterson ran and presented evidence that there was more than one option to solve the problem. The arguments began.

The board went ahead and decided to build the new school, which meant that they had to destroy the old school first. The Fact Finding Committee obtained a court order to halt the destruction. While all of this was going on, the school board race was heating up. At one point Mr. Nosch and the others were removed from the ballot because of a discrepancy of dates on their petitions. The board of inquiry included four present school members whose names I don't know. After a long court battle, Mr. Nosch and the others were put back on the ballot after the court ruled it was unjust because of the prejudice towards the candidates running for the office.

We all know the fate of our school which doesn't matter because it is too late to really do anything now. What does matter is the morale of the student population. Being a student, I see what is happening. The school spirit as we knew it is gone. Last year we were all fired up and we pulled together at our new home. This year at our first pep rally, the atmosphere was a "ho-hum" attitude. When the band started playing the school song, the students responded by throwing paper airplanes. The school board is playing a political game at the students' expense. When I say political, I mean that the people are only looking out for one person, themselves. They really don't care about the students. To them, we are pawns in a big chess game.

The students' attitude isn't the only one that is bad. Some of the teacher's attitudes stink also. There are some that still care how a student is doing in his or her class. I have some of these teachers; the ones that go out of their way to help you. I thank them for this and congratulate them for their fine job and hope they keep it up.

CUB On The Job

Editor:

By now, Commonwealth Edison customers are painfully aware of the company's latest rate hike—$494.8 million granted by the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) in October. What Edison customers may not be aware of, however, is what CUB—the Citizens Utility Board—is doing to fight that increase.

Immediately following the rate hike, CUB asked the ICC to reconsider the case. The commission refused so CUB filed suit in Cook County Circuit Court charging that the ICC violated the state's Public Utilities Act by granting the increase without thorough investigation. That law charges the commission with assuring that rate increases are reasonable and justified. CUB, and Edison customers, feel this increase is neither reasonable or justified.

Along with fighting this particular rate increase, CUB feels very strongly that the time has come to begin to solve some of the long-term problems facing Illinois ratepayers.

While Gov. James Thompson was rightly condemning the increase, he also was considering a replacement for ICC Chairman Phillip O'Conner, who will resign Dec. 15. This appointment will be one of the most significant decisions Thompson will make as Governor, and CUB has urged him to appoint a new commissioner who will be sensitive to the needs of ratepayers.

CUB will continue to fight Edison's outrageous increase, but we need your help. Take a few minutes to write your elected officials, including the governor. Let them know you are outraged by this increase. Let them know you want a new ICC commissioner who will be sensitive to your needs. Let them know that Illinois ratepayers will no longer sit idly by while the utilities steamroll increase after increase through the ICC.

Although the initial outrage over Edison's increase appears to have dissipated, it has not been forgotten. Our voices have made a difference in the past and they can make a difference now.

If you are not a CUB member now, please join us. Call 1-800-222-2822.

Bean Soup Has Vitamins And Tastes Great, Too

From an old sage: You'll say, "Where's the beef?" But it'll be right there, disguised as pork, thanks to a little seasoning.

A colleague suggested combining a liberal amount of sage and some crushed red pepper with ground beef, shaping into patties and frying in a nonstick skillet.

My wife did. It tasted just like pork.

000000

From the fish monger: Marinate fresh fish overnight with salt, hot pepper and lemon juice. Coat with flour, fry to a golden brown in hot oil and remove fish. Pour off old oil, add new oil and brown chopped onions. Return fish, pour on tomato sauce or crushed tomatoes, sprinkle on a little thyme and heat through. Tastes great.

From a nutritionist: "Your recipe for navy bean soup interested me from the nutritional point of view as well as sounding great to prepare and eat," writes Lorraine B. Jarvis, a registered dietitian from Plymouth, Mich.

"So I decided to run an analysis...with my computer program. Not too many calories, great food values. Put milk, bread and fruit with this and you would have it made."

The bean soup is high in iron, protein and potassium, with no fat or cholesterol. It also contains every vitamin except D; A and B-6 are the highest.

One of my favorite bean soups contains garbanzos. It's almost as nutritional and, frankly, better tasting.

Garbanzo Soup

- 1 package (12 oz.) garbanzos, soaked overnight
- 4 ham hocks or pork hocks
- 2 Chorizo (Spanish sausage) links, sliced
- 1 bay leaf
- salt to taste
- 2 potatoes
- 2 tablespoons cooking oil
- 1 green pepper, finely chopped
- 1 onion, finely chopped
- 3 garlic cloves, minced
- 1/8 teaspoon each black pepper and oregano
- 1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce

Drain garbanzos and place in large pot; add hocks and chorizos, cover with water, add salt and bay leaf, leave lid ajar and cook on medium heat about one and one half hours, until beans are almost tender. Add potatoes. Heat oil in skillet; add remaining ingredients and cook on medium low heat five minutes, stirring. Add to bean pot. Bring soup to boil, allowing to thicken. Then reduce heat to low. Leave lid ajar and cook 25 to 30 minutes. Serves a crowd.

Travel

Keep Travel In Mind For Your Resolutions

Christmas has passed and 1986 is just around the corner. Many will be making resolutions and promises on New Years Eve, to improve 1986 activities.

One thing to keep on the planning board is personal travel. About one in every eight dollars earned in America is designated to resolve personal preferences. Tourism, America's burgeoning industry, is a growing giant that ranks among the ten fastest expanding occupations, projected through the next decade.

The Valley Forge Country Visitors Bureau, in Norristown, Pa., has great plans for convention and visitor business. Valley Forge is a name associated with George Washington, the father of our country and the first commander of our continental forces during the Revolutionary War.

It was on Christmas night in 1776 he made his famous crossing of the Delaware River to route the British. The Valley Forge winter of 1777-78 was one of extreme privation and misery.

Washington's 9,000-man army emerged, despite 3,000 desertions, with greater strength and better training. Today's Valley Forge and its "The Sounds of Christmas" program, now attracts visitors to the same area scorned by those deserters over two centuries ago.

History-oriented travelers find Valley Forge a memorable scene worth visiting. Feb. 15-17 will present a living history encampment recreating the continental soldiers plight.

On Feb. 15, the Boy Scouts of America will converge to celebrate Washington's 254th birthday. Martha Washington's Cake recipe will again be used by costumed Historical Society members who prepare a great birthday cake to be served publicly at the society's museum.

Cold local temperatures eventually put the south into our thinking. Holiday cards bring memories of travel into warmer areas. The Mississippi Gulf Coast has its pleasant memories. An attraction of coastal cities is the excellence of their seafood. One of Biloxi's unusual seafood restaurants is called "The Factory" because it was originally a fish and shrimp canning company.

Therefore, its location in a busy seafood and shipyard waterfront complex is understandable. The still-elevated, sheet metal building is unchanged on the exterior, but its cavernous interior now contains Shirley's Restaurant, shops, patio and pier.

The relaxed atmosphere, circling seagulls and frosty mugged beer makes everything taste just a little better. Absolute freshness of seafood, mixed with preparation knowledge and old time family recipes, provide an experience to remember.

A highlight to schedule is a harbor cruise aboard the Sailfish. It's a pleasant educational two hours. If you've wondered how a trawler catches fish, crabs, shrimp and other sea creatures, all is demonstrated and explained by the crew.

Fishing is the oldest industry of the Mississippi Gulf Coast...they know it well and do it best.

Take time to visit Gulfport, just west of Biloxi. They say people go "bananas" in Gulfport. And well they may, it's the largest import point of bananas in the states.

This is just a sampling of what may be seen on Rte. 90, which edges some 30 miles of Miss.'s man-made, Gulf Coast, sand beach...don't miss it.

Change Season Dates

The dates for the opening weekend of the 1986 white-tailed deer season have been changed to prevent a conflict with the opening day of upland game hunting in the state's southern zone, according to Dept. of Conservation Associate Director Temple Reynolds.

Opening weekend for the firearm deer hunting season will be Nov. 21, 22 and 23. The second half of the split season will remain as previously announced, Dec. 12, 13 and 14.

The deer season had been originally scheduled for Nov. 14, 15 and 16. Upland game season for the southern zone begins Nov. 15.

Reynolds explained that some hunters who called the DOC to determine the new season dates were given the superceded dates.

"We regret any inconvenience this change may cause," Reynolds said. "It was made after we determined the conflict in dates between the first part of the deer season and the upland game season in the south might cause difficulties."

Pace Service

Pace Surban Bus Service has raised prices for Dial-A-Ride as of Jan. 1. The charge for seniors, children, students and handicapped individuals will be 60 cents. Price for adults will increase to $1.10.

Defendants Help Winchester House

Thirty young defendants between 17 and 21 years of age sentenced to perform public service by the Lake County Court system recently completed a three day project designed to make a happier Christmas for the elderly residents of the county home in Libertyville.

Using supplies donated by Court Services staff and the Pik Kwik food store, the defendants made placemats and decorated bags in, which gifts were placed for the Winchester House residents.

The response from the young defendants was good in that they all felt that what they were doing for the Winchester House residents was a very worthy and self rewarding activity.

At present, 250-300 defendants convicted of non-violent offenses such as disorderly conduct and traffic offenses are sentenced to perform public service each month by Lake County judges. At present over 100 agencies and organizations participate in the program. Any not profit or governmental or church organization may make use of the program. Any group wishing to participate is encouraged to call Jerry Locke at (312) 689-6664.

Graham Takes Charge For Trip To Kankakee

Carmel's Corsairs entered holiday tournament time at Kankakee buoyed with the knowledge that their junior center, (6-4) Rob Graham of Libertyville, "has come of age."

The Corsairs were scheduled to play their first game at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 26, facing the host team in a 16-team meet considered one of the toughest in the state.

Kankakee this season features a basketball version of the "Refrigerator," a (6-4, 360-pound youth who reportedly knows his way around a basketball court.

Graham was a one-man gang for the Corsairs Friday night, Dec. 20, in a road trip to Holy Cross for an East Suburban Catholic Conference contest.

Rob poured through 25 points and pulled down 12 rebounds as Carmel rolled to a 63-47 victory, the second straight in the ESCC, that sounds easier than it was because of some nifty perimeter shooting by the Crusaders.

Carmel jumped off to a 16-13 first period lead and built at 29-19 halftime advantage despite a listless offense. Then Graham took charge and tallied seven baskets in the second half.

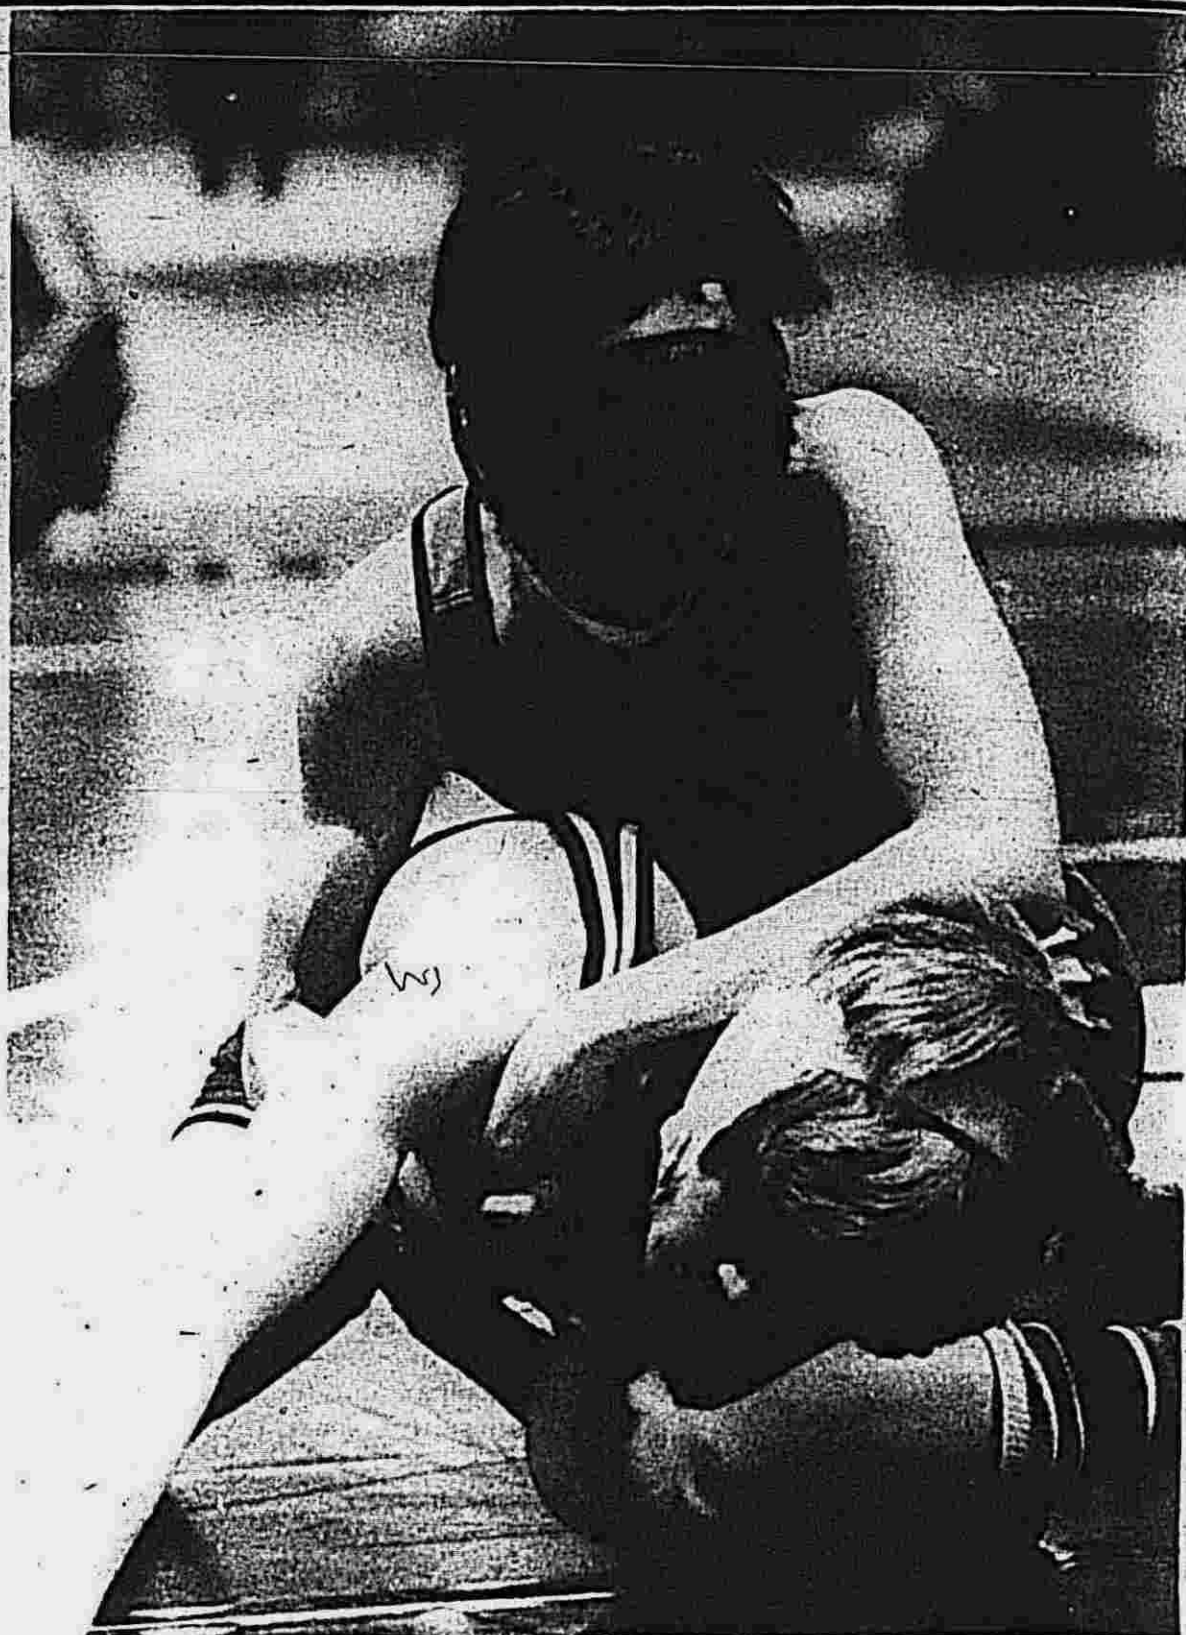

The Crusaders big center, (6-6) Tom Hussey, posed no problem for Graham, who proved once again that he can give away two or three inches at the pivot and still be effective at both ends of the court.

Carmel denied Holy Cross any kind of inside game in the fourth quarter. When Mike Curley sank four straight freethrows the decision belonged to Carmel which now stands 2-2 in the conference.

The Corsairs played a non-conference tilt at Deerfield Saturday night to set the stage for tourney action.

With reserves playing most of the game, the Carmel sophs notched their eighth straight victory of the young season 50-44.

Sequoits' Experience Could Beat Rockford

by GLORIA DAVIS

The Sequoits will be 3-2 in North Suburban Conference play, tied for third place with Libertyville, when they go into the Rockford Christmas Classic to face Rockford Harlem, at 1:30 p.m., on Thursday, Dec. 26.

Sequoit Coach Don Zeman is looking for "an interesting game," because Rockford and the Antioch are both big teams.

Antioch may have the edge here in experience, with the Rockford using a lot of underclassmen on the floor.

Antioch is then set to play either Rockford Auburn or Peoria Richwoods on Friday, Dec. 27, depending on the outcome of both games.

The Sequoits climbed from fourth to third place by edging the Libertyville Wildcats, 58-51, on Dec. 20, on Antioch's home court.

Antioch led all the way after the first few minutes of the first quarter.

The key to Antioch's second win over the Wildcats this season was in the Sequoit's defense, with a big hunk of the credit going to Dave Grindley who held Wildcat's star Bryan Wilcox(6-6) to seven points in total.

Sequoit forward Don Gunther had the hot hands for the winners, scoring 21 with four rebounds.

Grindley came through with 16 points and five rebounds and Matt Weber, who started in place of Rick Reitmayer who broke a bone in his wrist in the Thanksgiving Tournament, marked-up 10 points, grabbed five rebounds and was responsible for six assists.

Interesting And Unusual Information About Animals

by CHARLENE WHITNEY

I have found some unusual facts about animals that I didn't know about and I want to share with you. The animal world can hold so many points of interest in our lives. Some we will never really understand.

If a starfish loses an arm is it handicapped? The answer is no. Can you believe that it just grows a new one. That is something I don't believe any other animal can do.

Is there an animal that lives his whole life underground. Yes, the mole is blind. He digs and lives his entirety in underground burrows.

Is the sponge an animal or a member of the plant family? I can tell you that a sponge is a marine animal.

The highest mammalian blood temperature is that of a domestic goat. He has a normal range of from 101.7 to 105.3 degrees Fahrenheit.

The lowest mammalian blood temperature is that of the spiny anteater. He is found in Australia and New Guinea. He has a normal range of 72 to 87 degrees Fahrenheit.

Home Delivery

Home delivery of this newspaper and associated Lakeland Newspapers is easy to arrange.

Do you think that nightingales sing only at night? This is not true. This became a belief because the nightingale's song is best heard at night when things are quiet.

What do you think? Can a rhinoceros run faster than an elephant? The top speed for the elephant is about 24 to 25 miles per hour. The rhinoceros can run about 28 miles an hour. It's close.

Do you know what is the most dominant form of life on the planet earth? The insects are. The number of insects species surpasses that of all others put together.

Do you know why some European cuckoo birds are deemed by some as not really cuckoo, but really very smart? This is because it puts its eggs in the nests of other birds that are totally unaware as foster parents to hatch and raise.

The parasitic tapeworms attach themselves to the intestines of a human and can attain lengths to forty feet. It can remain there for many years. This is a frightening thought but also amazing.

From the time that Christ was born until now, seventy-five percent or more of the world's animals have been destroyed due to man's irresponsibility.

Bulldog Ball Handling Proves To Be Tragic

by JENNI PARMALEE

The winning ways are still eluding Wauconda.

The Bulldogs dropped their eighth in as many games in a 67-60 loss to the visiting Johnsbury Sky Hawks on Friday night, Dec. 20.

The Bulldogs may have beaten themselves as they failed to cut down the number of turnovers. Wauconda gave the ball away 19 times compared to only eight for the Sky Hawks who improved their record to 6-2.

"The turnovers were largely due to traveling in bad passes," Wauconda coach Chuck Neary said. "We're still making the same mistakes we made at the beginning of the year."

The ball handling errors paved the way for the Sky

Hawk offense. Johnsbury guard Rick Easterling was the game's leading scorer with 21 points while senior teammates Bill Dust and Mike Toussaint scored 12 and 11 respectively.

"Easterling has been by far our most outstanding player," Johnsbury coach Doug Hofmeister said. "He's not real flashy but he gets the job done."

Senior Paul Nibbio led the Bulldogs in scoring with 14 points. Point guard Phil Elwell followed, scoring 12 points while junior Pat Schaller scored 11.

Things were looking up for the Bulldogs. At the end of the first period, Johnsbury clung to a 21-20 lead.

The second quarter made the difference for the Bulldogs. While the Wauconda offense could only generate eight points, the Sky Hawks secured a 39-28 lead by halftime.

"If we'd played the rest of the game like we'd played the first quarter, the game would have been ours," Elwell said.

The Bulldogs came within striking distance at the 7:16 mark in the fourth quarter, trailing 51-50. The Sky Hawks regrouped and with 5:11 left in the game, Johnsbury put a lock on their victory with a 61-52 lead.

"I thought Wauconda did a super job, they never quit," Hofmeister said. "They're going to win some ball games this year."

The Bulldogs will attempt to improve their record at the Marengo Christmas Tournament, Dec. 26, 27 and 28.

Panthers May Come Out On Top At Hampshire

The Round Lake Panthers are currently participating in the Hampshire Christmas Tournament and may come out on top if things keep going the way they have been for them.

The Panthers have only lost one game all year to date (Marengo) and have been handling most of their opponents with ease.

As kind of a warm-up for the Hampshire tourney, the Panthers disposed of the Lake Zurich Bears Dec. 20 by a score of 46-43.

The game wasn't as close as the score indicated though, as Round Lake led 16-4 after one quarter and then coasted in from there.

Lake Zurich made a run at the Panthers by closing the gap to 21-20 at the half, but couldn't overcome the comfortable leads that the Panthers had held throughout most of the game.

The Panthers' all-conference candidate Frank Ptak led all scorers with 20 points, including 8 for 11 from the free throw line.

The only other Panther to score in double figures was Doug Sparks with 10.

Grant Spends Holidays At Dekalb Tournament

The Grant Bulldogs were scheduled to play Sycamore at the DeKalb Holiday Tournament which began Dec. 23. The team will continue to play in the tournament on Dec. 26, 27, and 28.

Despite a 70-44 loss against Marengo last week, head coach Tom Maple said the team usually does well at the annual tournament.

"We get a chance to play different teams out of the area," Maple said. "It gives us a chance to play teams that haven't scouted us."

The visiting Bulldogs lost to Marengo after being outscored 14-2 at the end of first quarter and 32-13 at halftime. The team's standings dropped to 1-2 in the conference and 4-5 overall.

"They're a good team and we didn't shoot well the first quarter," Maple said. "We dug a whole and couldn't get out of it."

Tom Barr was the high scorer of the night with 17 points.

Starting Out...Starting Over... Or Starting A New Job...?

There are a lot of reasons why people decide to rent instead of buy. For one thing, a good credit record isn't that easy to establish these days. If you're just starting out, chances are you've never needed credit before now—and you probably don't have a lot of money saved up, either. If you're "starting over" well, that's difficult enough in itself, without the added weight of credit hassles and long-term commitments. And if you just started a new job—even though you may be making more money—you may still have trouble getting credit, because most credit agencies put a great deal of importance on how long you've been at your job. That's why, with or without a credit record, we've made it so easy for you to RENT the things you want from RENT-A-CENTER—and still have the option to own! So don't let the high cost of buying get you down. Step up to RENT-A-CENTER today and have the things you want delivered to your home tonight!

Rams To Take On Tough Scout Team

by DANG O'SHEA

After a less than dynamic win against conference foe Marian Central, the Grayslake Rams will be taking on a tough Lake Forest team in the opening round of the Elgin Varsity Basketball Christmas Tournament, Thursday, Dec. 26.

Grayslake beat the Hurricanes by a score of 70-66, but they didn't take the final lead until the last two-and-a-half minutes of the game, Dec. 20.

The Rams made only four baskets in the entire second half. However they made the most of their opportunities at the free throw line in the half, converting 19 of 24, including 16 of 20 in the fourth quarter.

Grayslake Head Coach Greg Groth commented that (6-3) forward Andy Flood played a good defensive game and that Tom Castino and Daryl Mackenthun played well offensively.

Flood, a junior, has 10 rebounds, half of them in the fourth quarter. Guard Castino led the Rams with 23 points, including nine of 11 from the line. He scored 20 points in the first half. Mackenthun followed in scoring with 14 points, all but two in the first half.

Flood had nine points, and Jeff West and Bill Sangbusch scored seven each. Groth started Sangbusch, Flood and Mackenthun in place of John Lui, West and guard Kelly Bye. He said the change was made primarily for rebounding. It seemed to work as the Rams outrebound the Hurricanes 20-9, according to unofficial statistics.

Grayslake has won four of its last five games but Groth said he is worried about the Rams' performances of late. "It seems that we can't win consistently. We're not playing together as a team."

MacKenthun's only second half points were two free throws which tied the game 60-60 at 2:26 of the fourth quarter. Sangbusch scored the go-ahead basket a few seconds later.

Grayslake is 2-1 in the Northwest Suburban Conference and after the tournament at Elgin Dec. 26, 27 and 28, the Rams will resume conference play Jan. 7 at Grant.

What Now?

Bison Back Off Against Devils

The Warren Blue Devils defeated the Fenton Bison 58-44 on Dec. 20, bringing their record to 4-1 in the conference and 5-3 overall.

Junior Brian Jarrell (6-4) led the team with 20 points, hooping eight baskets and four out of four free throws. Senior forward Bob Bell (6-5) hooped five baskets and two out of two free throws to score a total of 12 points.

Senior guard Joel Elfering (5-11) scored a total of 11 points, with five baskets and one out of two free throws.

TIME OUT!

A Look At Sports Around Lake County
By Joel Wiltberger

There is a team in this county that refused to believe the losers tag pinned on it and its school a few years ago by an ex-coach. It started last year by being respectable in a sport their ex-coach said they could never be. They came out of the gate fast this year refusing to believe they can't win, doing whatever it takes, diving for loose balls, playing with reckless abandon, giving 110 percent every minute of every game. This team is on a mission—to prove the fallacy of that statement made two years ago. I hope they make it—I've saved the newspaper clipping.

A LOOK AROUND THE COUNTY:

In the North Suburban boys basketball it looks like Lake Forest, Libertyville and Warren emerging to be the teams to beat for the top spot, while in the Northwest Suburban, Marengo holds the top spot with Round Lake (one game off the pace and coming on strong) making a move for the number one position.

County teams will be involved in eight holiday tournaments starting Monday Dec. 23 with Lake Zurich and Round Lake among the top seeds in the 12-team Hampshire tournament, Warren at the DeKalb tournament, Antioch at the Rockford tournament, Wauconda at the Marengo tournament, Carmel at the Kankakee tournament, Zion-Benton and North Chicago at the Wheeling tournament, Mundelein and Grayslake at the Elgin tournament round out a busy holiday week.

A LOOK BACK:

In 1965 the Antioch Sequoits (12-2) took the basketball crown in the Northwest Suburban. All-Conference picks Vic Rogers (6-9 senior with a 19.9 scoring average) and sophomore Tyrone Walls led the Sequoits that year. Other members of the NWSC "Dream Team" were Warren's (6-7) forward Bill Robbins (leading scorer in the conference with a 23.6 average); Grayslake's (6-2) forward John Nesheim (16.6); Grant's (6-1) Al Killoran (14.7); and Round Lake's (6-2) forward Jim Knaup (16.2).

In 1975 the Sequoits (12-1) took the crown again. All-conference selections that year were Antioch's Mike Perrone (conference leader with a 20.2 average) and Russ Albano (17.0); Grayslake's Mike Quinn (17.3) and Mark McClain (15.2); Grant's Kevin Kelly (14.5) and Russ Marsh (10.1); Warren's Mickey Learblad (18.2) and Kurt Anderson (13.2); and Wauconda's Dave Hedgepata (11.5).

Ask Toni

By Toni Reinhold

When and where was Kenny Rogers born? — T.C., Gadsden, Ala.

Kenny Rogers

The popular singer was born in Houston on Aug. 21, 1938.

Which movie was actor Vic Morrow filming when he was killed? In what year did that occur? And when and where was he born? — K.H., Mitchell, S.D.

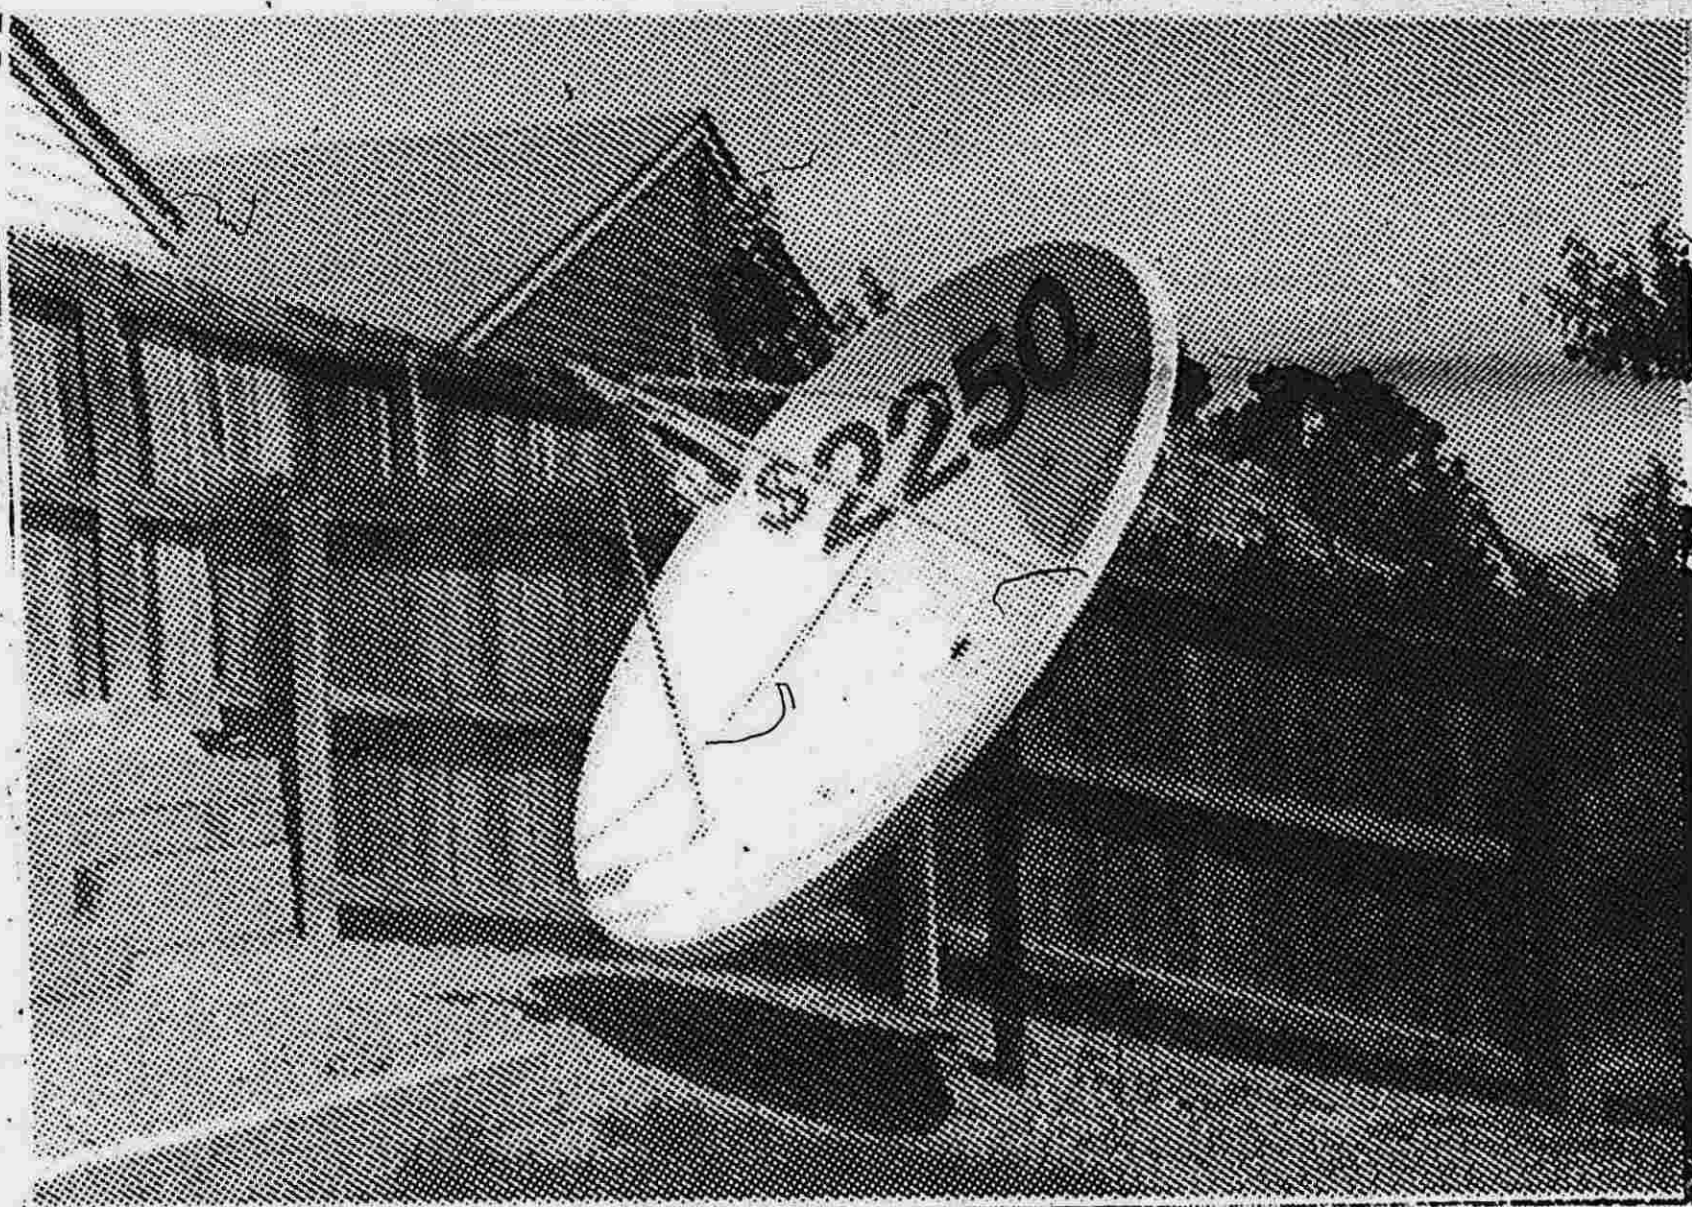

The tragic accident that claimed Morrow's life occurred during the filming of "Twilight Zone — The Movie" in 1982. Morrow, who had starred in the popular TV series "Combat," was born in the Bronx, N.Y., in 1932.

I recently saw the film "The Fighting 69th," starring James Cagney. Were Spencer Tracy and Jeffrey Lynn also in this movie? — C.T., Hanford, Calif.

This 1940 film about the exploits of the famed Irish regiment in World War I also starred Jeffrey Lynn, Pat O'Brien, George Brent, Alan Hale, Frank McHugh and Dennis Morgan. Spencer Tracy was not a member of the cast.

BUYING A HOME SATELLITE DISH IS COSTLIER THAN YOU THINK.

Before you spend your hard earned money on a satellite receive dish you should learn the facts.

This year popular premium services like HBO and Cinemax will begin scrambling their signals with highly sophisticated electronic encryption devices.

And this new technique won't be limited to just premium services.

Many basic cable channels like ESPN, MTV and CNN have announced their intentions to scramble signals.

What does this mean for satellite dish owners?

In addition to paying several thousand dollars for the purchase and installation of a receive dish, it will be necessary to spend hundreds of dollars on descrambling equipment plus pay monthly service fees for each channel received.

Make your decision based on the facts.

This message is brought to you as a public service by U.S. Cable.

For more than a decade, Burt Reynolds has been a major film star and one of America's most eligible bachelors, but his decade as a television actor has been nearly forgotten in the glare of the limelight.

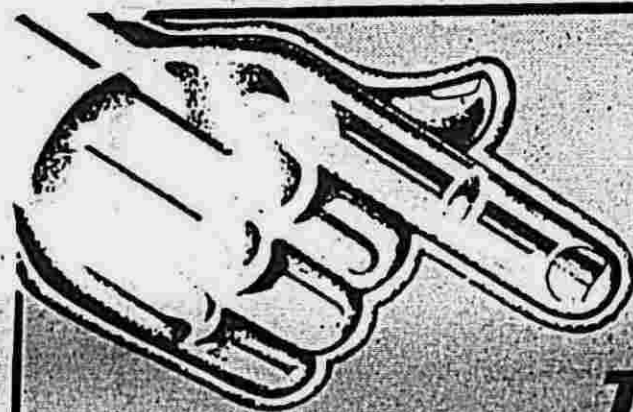

It is just as well, because his TV credits are unspectacular: three seasons on "Gunsmoke," one on "Hawk," and an occasional appearance on "Love, American Style."

And in 1970, he starred in "Dan August," an utterly ordinary police drama that aired on ABC.

Unlike his popular character Bandit, Reynolds' Dan August upheld the law. As a detective in his Southern California hometown, he often was forced to convict his friends and neighbors. A tough predicament, but not a very unique one. The series faced an equally tough predicament — mediocre ratings. After just one season, the series was canceled.

"Dan August" was also a series stop for two other well-known television actors. One, Norman Fell, later starred on ABC's "Three's Company" and "The Ropers." The other, formerly Lt. Drum on "Perry Mason," was later featured on "The Six Million Dollar Man."

YES, YOU CAN!

You may have seen many new satellite earth stations, or "dishes", installed in our area recently and asked yourself, "Are those dishes legal?" or, "Can I have one of those?" Well, happily the answer to both questions is YES. In 1984, the U.S. Congress approved home earth stations designed for the reception of satellite broadcasts. Not only are dishes legal to use, they are affordable, too. You can enjoy the freedom and wide variety of satellite television today.

Senator Hears Opposition To Airport Proposal

Sen. Jack Schaffer, R-McHenry, reports he is hearing strong objections to a proposal for construction of a third airport, for fear it might be located in McHenry County or western Lake County.

"We are not against growth and progress, but we already have a great deal of both and we are having to work hard to maintain the quality of life in our area," he said in a letter to Rep. Lee Daniels, House Republican leader. Daniels had called for an advisory referendum to establish a third major airport to serve the Chicago area.

Sen. Schaffer said he finds 32nd District residents are reacting quite negatively to the proposal and suggested that Rep. Daniels should indicate possible locations for a new airport if a referendum is scheduled.

"While I feel the people in my area are sympathetic to the problems of the people who live near O'Hare, they would vote against such a referendum if they saw any chance the new airport could be located here."

Sen. Schaffer said the highway systems, particularly the east-west ones, and municipal sewer systems can barely serve present needs in McHenry and Lake Counties. "The last thing we need is more highway traffic and heavier demands on our sewer system, which would certainly occur if an airport were located here," he said.

Candidate Tells Views On Crime Prevention

Sander P. Stagman is convinced that Lake County residents are ready for a sheriff who is as interested in keeping people out of jail as he is keeping criminals locked up.

"There's a big difference in how the sheriff approaches his job, what are his feelings and attitudes toward crime prevention," insisted Stagman of Highland Park, who is running unopposed for the Democratic nomination for sheriff in the March primary.

Stagman, 42, says the key to good law enforcement is crime prevention.

"If the sheriff isn't stressing crime prevention, he's not doing the job," Stagman declared bluntly as he discussed his plans for running for the county's top law enforcement position.

Stagman's credentials rest largely in the field of business and political science, although he is a graduate of the Cook County Sheriff's Academy and is a past director for special correctional rehabilitation for the Cook County Dept. of Corrections.

He is owner and operator of a string of tax accounting offices. Stagman also has taught tax accounting at the college level.

Stagman isn't ashamed to describe himself as a visionary.

"Everything I've ever done is culminating with this campaign for sheriff. It's where I want to be."

Stagman points out that a sense of vision along with intellect and honesty are the three basic ingredients necessary to make a good sheriff.

"No, I'm not a street cop. You don't have to be a cop to be sheriff. But I've worked in jails and I know what goes on in jails. I can't begin to tell you how much work there is to be done in the field of rehabilitation," remarked Stagman, who is a candidate for a masters degree in criminology at Roosevelt University.

Stagman fairly bristled when a reporter suggested that his approach to the campaign may stamp him as an "egg head" because of his stress on rehabilitation and crime prevention.

"I don't know what an egg head is. I do know the reasons why rehabilitation makes sense and why society has to work so hard to keep people out of jail."

Stagman pointed out that his emphasis on rehabilitation and crime prevention is based on the statistic that 25 percent of the population is incarcerated or detained at some time in their life for reasons as slight as a traffic offense.

"I didn't make up that figure, I heard it from other sources, including Sheriff Babcox of Lake County," the dark-haired, intense candidate remarked.

To make sure that his ideas aren't misinterpreted, Stagman described how he would employ a "two-handed" approach to the job of sheriff.

"I'd use a fist where necessary to catch and lock up criminals. I'd have an open hand for people in need of help and rehabilitation."

Stagman frequently returned to a theme of family involvement in support of his theories on crime, prevention and rehabilitation.

He views family cooperation as a vital resource in rehabilitation.

Libraries To Receive Grants

Seven Lakeland area libraries will receive state library grants totaling $4,487,315 this year, Secretary of State and State Librarian, Jim Edgar has announced.

Edgar said that this is the first time that libraries will be fully funded under provisions of the per capita program as required by state law.

In all, 490 libraries statewide will receive more than $9.3 million in per capita grants, almost double the amount distributed by Edgar last year. In addition, $510,428 in equalization grants was awarded to 92 libraries throughout the state.

"State per capita grants to local libraries have increased dramatically since 1981," Edgar said.

"That year the grant formula allocated just 21 cents for each local taxpayer served by a library. For the first time, we are able this year to meet the statutory requirement that state support total one dollar per taxpayer," he added.

Area libraries receiving per capita grants are: Fox Lake Public Library Dist., Fremont Public Library Dist., Lake Villa Dist.

Stagman said he is pledged to a non-party approach to campaigning for public office and hard work to sell his ideas about law enforcement and what kind of sheriff he would be.

"I'm calling this a 'three-pair-of-shoes' campaign. I intend to do a lot of walking and talking. You'll see a lot of me in west Lake County," the sheriff's aspirant remarked.

Stagman never before has sought public office although he comes from a politically orientated family. His sister currently is seeking a circuit judgeship in Cook County and his late father was an assistant Cook County state's attorney 40 years ago.

Stagman is a single parent with a young daughter at home.

Charities Party Successful

The Foster and Adoptive Parents' Guild of the Lake County Catholic Charities held its fourth annual Christmas party at Lambs Farm earlier this month.

In attendance were many past, current, and prospective adoptive and foster families and their children.

This annual event has become an enjoyable time for the many families to meet and compare notes on how the children have grown, how the families have grown, and all the other newsy tidbits that people who like and care about each other share when they get together.

Each year a family is recognized for the special contribution they have made. This year an award was given for the foster adoptive family of the year.

Gilda and Alex Torres of Waukegan were recognized for this honor. In June of 1984, Gilda, Alex, Stryker and Derek were joined by Shannon and Travis, who were adopted by the Torres.

Also in the past one and a half years, the Torres have been foster parents to four teenagers, three of them siblings who were placed together. Being a parent to teenagers is difficult enough when you grow up with children but is even tougher when they come full grown.

However, the Torres family has accepted the challenge.

In addition to the award, there was a special visit for the children by Santa Claus and an auction of home made goods and goodies.

If anyone is interested in joining this group for next Christmas as a foster or adoptive parent, please call Catholic Charities at (312) 249-3500.

Sugar: Difficult For Body to Metabolize

By PAT DE ANGELIS

Question: How safe are sugar substitutes? Are we just changing problems?

Answer: In addition to increasing cavities and supplying empty calories (no vitamin and minerals), sugar is difficult for the body to metabolize.

The refined, processed and granulated sugar is much more difficult for the body to handle than natural sugar sources such as fruit (fructose) and dairy products (lactose). Many sugar substitutes are chemically derived and need to be detoxified from the body through the liver.

Excess quantities of sugar may effect the pancreas just as excess quantities of sugar substitutes may also effect the liver. This changes the problems but does not solve them.

We are constantly searching for the magic potion that tastes sweet without the ill effects of sugar. Because the demand is so great, the competitive motivation to solve this need are widely known with extensive research being done.

Short cuts, especially in the area of long range safety testing are likely, due to the possible economical benefits to the developer and manufacturer.

Aspartame is the newest sugar substitute on the market. This product used in many food products and soft drinks under the label of Nutra Sweet is composed of two amino acids which are natural constituents of proteins.

This product, however, contains only two amino acids where as protein normally is divided into many amino acids by the body digestive system. There is no record to follow for increased ingestion of two amino acids without the other more than protein components.

This situation can be related to adding minute amounts of additives to processed food about thirty years ago, that in themselves were not harmful. Problems appear when these items are in so many food sources that the daily intake becomes significant.

The major controversy about aspartame revolves around possible large quantities that may be consumed especially by small children. Some authorities feel that this product may interfere with the chemical neurotransmitter of the brain and affect behavior and other brain functions.

One suggestion has been to require listing the quantity of aspartame on the label, not just the presence of the ingredient.

Saccharin is a petroleum derivative that has been available since the early 1900's. Many countries banned the use of saccharin early on because of suspicions regarding long range safety.

Our country put a ban on saccharin in 1977. Enforcement of this has been delayed several times.

In the 1960's cyclamate was introduced and used with saccharin. After preliminary testing, cyclamate was banned in 1970 as a possible cancer risk factor.

Testing has continued with this product and a petition to return cyclamate to the market is pending. Cyclamate is less expensive than either saccharin or aspartame, but will need to be combined with one of these items to be an effective substitute sweetener.

The best policy is to approach the sugar substitutes as sugar itself and to use balance and moderation as your guide. Be aware and make note of body signals (symptoms after consuming Nutra Sweet products, especially large quantities at one time or during one day).

Some reported possible signals have been headaches, seizures, rashes, temporary blindness, and nausea. From the awareness data, make a decision concerning your individual tolerance of sugar substitutes.

Three Libraries To Hold Reading/Discussion Series

A new reading and discussion series, "The Way We Were, The Way We Are: Seasons in the Contemporary American Family," will begin in January at three Lake County public libraries.

The series will continue every month through May at the Waukegan, Zion-Benton and Warren-Newport public libraries.

The Waukegan Public Library's series will be held on the second Tuesday of each month; Zion-Benton's, on the third Tuesday of each month; and Warren-Newport's, on the fourth Tuesday. All programs will run from 7 to 9 p.m.

Evelyn Asch, humanities instructor at Shimer College in Waukegan will be the 'visiting scholar' for all sessions.

This local program is part of a national project, sponsored by the American Library Assn. and funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities, which is helping libraries across the country to put on reading and discussion programs.

"Exploring contemporary issues through literature has always been exciting," Sandy Carnelli, acting head of Adult Services at Waukegan Public Library said.

Wisocki Files Against Don Mason's Petitions

by GLORIA DAVIS

Al Wisocki, Round Lake attorney, has filed objections to the petitions filed by Don Mason, announced candidate for Lake County sheriff.

At press time, Mason didn't know all the components of the objection, but he said that one was that someone who passed out a petition for him was not a registered voter.

"I'll just have to find out what this is all about and answer the objections at the hearing on the matter," said Mason.

Rudy Magna, Jr., attorney for Wisocki, said that Wisocki did the checking because he "is not a fan of Mr. Mason's (both were on the sheriff's department at the same time) and he is just a concerned Lake County resident."

Mason has accused Wisocki of getting his law degree on county time. Magna said that irregularities were found in three categories: petition circulator not a registered voter, 127 signatures; 81 signatures not of registered voters; 55 signatures do not match with voter registration signatures.

Mason filed 629 signatures. He needs 592 to be nominated. The hearing on the objections must be held by Dec. 26 or 27. At press time, Lake County Clerk Linda Hess had not set a hearing date.

Mason, who intends to oppose incumbent sheriff, Robert (Mickey) Babcox in the Republican primary, claims "this might be the last chance to get rid of the Babcox machine."

Mason said that Wisocki and Magna are "front men" for Babcox.

Babcox says, "They are not on my campaign staff."

Mason claims that Babcox used Art Newell (since convicted of being former Fox Lake Mayor Richard Hamm's bag man in the cable scandal) in the last election.

According to Mason, "Newell just harrassed me, these guys are going after the people that are backing me."

Mason adds that an unprecedented check on the petitions he filed was made at the county court house last week.

"They called everyone who signed the petitions and were still calling and up-setting them on Sunday. These people are not experienced politicians. We have done nothing wrong," says Mason.

"It's a shame that kind of back-room politics has to occur," said Mason, reiterating that the voters of Lake County will have a choice in March between machine politics and a candidate backed by "plain people." (If Mason's petitions holdup.)

recover the full effect of that," McArdle says. "We follow a family after a death so they can create a new life for themselves."

The STAR Hospice offers both an adult grief support group which meets twice a month as well as a children's grief support group. This bereavement service is available not only to patients' families but to the entire public, free of charge.

"It's open to the public because I felt there were few organized services to help people through this difficult time in their lives," McArdle explains. Most of the people who use the bereavement service are from the general public.

The bereavement workers get an abundance of calls during December because grieving people often have difficulty coping with the holidays, McArdle says. During this time, they also make extra calls to the family members of patients in the STAR program who recently died.

Because the STAR workers come into daily contact with terminal illness and death, the hospice has its own bereavement support within the staff. A psychologist also visits the staff about twice a month to help them confront any emotional problems related to their work, McArdle says.

Since the origin of the STAR Hospice five years ago, there were only about six other hospices in Illinois. Now there are about 50 in the state, McArdle adds, and more families are calling in for STAR services based upon word of mouth rather than doctors' recommendation. This is evidence that the STAR has touched the lives of many people, and will continue to do so.

For more information about the STAR Hospice or its volunteer program, call (312) 578-2220 or write to Director of STAR Hospice, St. Therese Hospital, 2615 Washington, Waukegan, 60085.

Carmel Sets Registration

Registration for the 1986 Freshman class at Carmel High School will take place on Saturday, Jan. 11.

All eighth grade boys and girls who plan to attend Carmel next September must come to the school this Saturday morning to register and to take a series of ability and achievement tests.

The test results, along with information received from the student's elementary school, will be used by Carmel to schedule the student for next year.

The testing will begin at Carmel at 8:30 a.m. on Saturday morning and will continue until about 12:30 p.m. No student can be admitted after 8:30 a.m. and no further testing date is planned for later in the year.

If illness prevents any student from taking the placement test on Jan. 11, it is absolutely necessary that the school be called in order that a place be reserved for September - Carmel for Girls, (312) 566-8440 or Carmel for Boys, (312) 566-4080.

Such students should make arrangements to take the high school placement tests with the public school students and have the results sent to Carmel.

Each student must bring a $10 testing fee. All students are also asked to bring a pen, and two No. 2 soft lead pencils.

Carmel High School for Boys and for Girls is located near the center of Lake County on Rte. 176 between Libertyville and Mundelein. It is a Catholic high school with a boy's division and a girl's division.

The girl's school is conducted by the Sisters of Charity, BVM, and the boy's school is conducted by the Carmelite Fathers and Brothers.

Now in its 23rd year of operation, the enrollment totals over 1400 from at least 49 communities within Lake County and neighboring Cook and McHenry Counties and Kenosha County in Wisconsin.

Bond Hearing To Continue For Suspect In Murder Case

By SUSAN MONTGOMERY

The bond hearing for Kristine Locascio, the 17-year-old Mundelein High School student held suspect in the murder of a Vernon Hills man, will be carried over until Jan. 9.

She will remain in the Lake County jail during the Christmas holidays until her next court date when she will appear before Lake County Circuit Judge John Hughes.

Locascio, along with two other suspects, has been arraigned on charges of murder, attempted murder, conspiracy to commit murder, armed violence and conspiracy to commit armed robbery in the Dec. 6 shooting death of 20-year-old Stephen B. McNulty. McNulty's companion, John V. Grant, 20, of Northbrook was wounded in the shooting.

In court on Dec. 20, Locascio's attorney, Robert Hauser, asked for the continuance of the bond hearing, saying that complete information from the state on the crime and police reports had not been available to him yet.

If found guilty, Locascio faces a possible maximum sentence of life in prison. Although Wayne Rogers, 21, also a suspect in the murder, could receive the death penalty as a maximum sentence, Locascio's age would protect her from receiving the death penalty.

The two other defendants, Rogers and Milton Muntaner, 19, both of Mundelein, have been ordered held without bond. All three have entered a plea of not guilty. A trial date has been set for Feb. 24.

Geary Transfers To St. Lukes

Dist. 4 Lake County Board Rep. Norman Geary (Avon Twp.) has been transferred to St. Lukes Hospital in Milwaukee.

Geary was taken to Highland Park Hospital after he suffered a mild heart attack Dec. 9 and is going to St. Lukes on his own will for further testing.

Geary's wife, Marilyn, said the county board member is in stable condition and is in good spirits.

She said he doesn't feel sick, or any extensive pain for that matter, but is feeling a tightness in his chest.

Geary is running for reelection in the March primary for Dist. 4 representation on the county board.

Leaded Gasoline Ban Will Effect Farmers

by STATE REP. CLOYD A. PORTER
(R-Burlington)

In the 1970's the Federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) started action to force the reduction of lead in gasoline. This was to be a gradual phase down of the amount of lead, with a complete ban of lead in all gasoline by mid-1990.

EPA has now stepped up its ban on lead use in gasoline. On July 1, 1985, the amount of lead was reduced to .5 grams per gallon, from the level of 1.1 grams. This new ban further reduces the amount to .1 grams per gallon Jan. 1, 1986, with a complete ban proposed by Jan. 1, 1988.

EPA is stepping up its ban because EPA claims the new health concerns related to leaded gasoline requires quicker action.

There is considerable debate, pro and con, within the medical community whether the health concerns cited by the EPA warrant such early action at this time to ban all use of lead in gasoline.

Assistant EPA Adm. Bernard Goldstein has cautioned that major new health concerns are "an unproven assertion right now."

If this ban or the required reduction in use of lead in gasoline goes into effect, people who own lawn mowers, outboard motors, motorcycles, farm tractors, snowmobiles, antique cars, and the list goes on, which now require use of gasoline with lead, could find themselves in trouble.

Many of these gasoline engines were manufactured to use between 2 and .5 grams of lead per gallon of fuel to prevent damage to the engine. A study conducted by the Society of Auto Engineers found that the use of unleaded gas in engines designed to burn leaded fuel resulted in valve system wear 10 to 20 times greater than with the use of leaded fuel. In simple words, the use of leaded gasoline in the engines ran cooler; with the use of unleaded gasoline, they ran hotter and the valves will burn out.

The major effect of this ban would be on farmers who own tractors and other pieces of farm equipment that require the use of leaded gasoline. It has been estimated for farmers, to replace all their older pieces of equipment, the overall cost could be about $100,000 for the average farmer on the national level.

Legislation has been introduced, on the federal level, that would delay a ban on leaded gasoline until a joint USDA and EPA study is done to assess the impact of a lead ban on agricultural equipment.

Write and let me know your thoughts: Representative Cloyd-Porter, Room 320 North, State Capitol, P.O. Box 8953, Madison, Wis., 53708.

What's In A Name? In Politics, Everything!

by JOHN STEINKE

Warren Twp. Supervisor Robert Depke once said: "Name recognition is 80 percent of an election." Deerfield Twp. Supervisor Robert Moroney commented: "I don't care what you write about me as long as you spell my name correctly." Since name recognition is the name of the game, celebrity is the coin of the realm these days. It may be only a slight exaggeration to say that the country is going to be governed by actors, professional athletes, astronauts, tv evangelists and famous political families.

A host of celebrities have already declared their candidacies in next year's elections. The 33-year-old Joseph P. Kennedy II, the second of Robert Kennedy's eleven children, has announced that he will seek the Democratic nomination for the congressional seat to be vacated next year by outgoing Speaker of the House, Tip O'Neill. He has the weight of history behind him. His uncle, John F. Kennedy represented Massachusetts' Eighth Congressional Dist. from 1946 to 1952. One of Kennedy's primary opponents will be James Roosevelt Jr., FDR's grandson.

Steinke On Politics

Kennedy's sister is also contemplating a political career. Thirty-four-year-old Kathleen Kennedy Townsend is a public interest lawyer on leave from her assignment in the Maryland attorney general's office. She is "seriously considering" a challenge to one-term Maryland Rep. Helen Bentley for the Second Dist. in suburban Baltimore. Kathleen Kennedy Townsend has lived in the district for about two years. If the two Kennedys are elected, they would be the first brother and sister to serve in Congress. It's reported that both are better swimmers than their Uncle Ted.

Another actor is surfacing in politics. Fred Grandy, who is known as "Gopher" on tv's "Love Boat" is giving up show business to run for Congress. The 37-year-old Grandy is seeking the Republican Party's 1986 nomination in Iowa's 6th Congressional Dist. He believes that his exposure on "Love Boat" guarantees him instant name recognition. But Grandy concedes that he will have to dispel the image of "Gopher" among voters. "Gopher" is the bumbling, naive ship's purser in the popular tv series. If Grandy survives next spring's primary election, the political newcomer will face six-term Rep. Berkley Bedell, a Democrat. Congressman Bedell's re-election bids have been as smooth as a cruise on Grandy's fictitious oceanliner.

A member of the "Jock Bloc" also has congressional aspirations in next year's elections. Former major league pitcher, Jim Bunning, is a GOP candidate for the U.S. House of Representatives from Kentucky. Recently, Vice President George Bush helped raise about $100,000 for Bunning's campaign. Bunning is a former state senator and an unsuccessful gubernatorial candidate in the 1983 elections. Bunning was a major league pitcher from 1955 to 1971. The Kentucky Republican had stints on the Detroit Tigers, Philadelphia Phillies, Pittsburgh Pirates and Los Angeles Dodgers. He won 224 games, including a perfect game as a Phillie against the New York Mets in 1964.

Finally, television evangelist Pat Robertson is considering a campaign for the Republican presidential nomination in 1988. The 55-year-old Robertson is the son of the late Virginia senator, Willis Robertson. He hosts "The 700 Club," a syndicated religious talk show that is a forum for his conservative Christian views. The evangelist recently switched from the Democratic Party to the Republican Party. Robertson hopes to attract religious fundamentalists to his candidacy in the same fashion that Rev. Jesse Jackson mobilized the Black vote in the 1984 Democratic presidential primaries.

In western Lake County, two sons of prominent politicians are dabbling in local politics. Steve Coles, whose father was Lake Villa Twp. Supervisor for 12 years, is serving on the Lake Villa Board of Trustees. Coles was elected to office by one vote. This earned him the nickname: "Landslide Steven." In addition, Shawn Depke, whose father has been Warren Twp. Supervisor for almost 25 years, is a member of the Lake County Republican Central Committee.

There is one way that you can brighten the holiday season of Lake County politicians. When you encounter one of them on the street, say: "I know you." To a politician, it's better than hearing: "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year." A greeting, by the way, that I wish to extend to my readership.

MAIL CALL: An old acquaintance, Florence Martin, penned me a kind note in her Christmas card. She wrote: "So happy to have you as columnist in Lakeland Press. Especially enjoyed your recent article on Pearl Harbor. Your irreverence for politicians has always been refreshing. Hope you will keep reporting their strengths and their weaknesses. We need to know, and just perhaps they might retain that touch of humility they exhibit only before an election!" Hallelujah!! Florence, I'm going to vote for you! Your note is the first fan letter that I have received as Lakeland's political columnist. Florence, I only wish that every voter possessed your healthy skepticism of Lake County politicians.

Board Approves Training

The College of Lake County Board of Trustees took action at its December meeting to approve contracts for CLC personnel to provide training for employees of American Technologies and Bradley Manufacturing, both Waukegan companies.

Through these contracts, funded through Illinois' High Impact Training Service, a total of 66 new personnel in the areas of sales and management will be trained over the next six months.

In other action, the Board approved the academic and holiday calendars for 1986-87 and approved recommendations to install air cleaning equipment and to expand the non-smoking areas on campus in order to deal with an air pollution problem.

The next meeting of the CLC Board will be Tuesday, Jan. 28, at 7 p.m.

PRAVER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT

Holy Spirit, you who makes me see everything, and you who shows me the way to reach my ideal. You who give me the Divine Gift to forgive and forget the wrong that is done to me, and you who are with me, I in this dialogue want to thank you for everything and to capitulate once more, that I never want to be separated from you, no matter how great material desires may be. I want to be with you and my loved ones in your perpetual glory. Amen. Thank you for your love toward me and my loved ones. Persons must pray this prayer for three consecutive days without asking your wish. After the third day your wish will be granted no matter how difficult it may be. Promise to publish this dialogue as soon as your favor has been granted.
